WE NOMINATE

Lawrance Roger Thompson, a confirmed Princetonian for some three decades and responsible for one of the year's "major literary events," the publication of the first volume of his definitive and authorized biography of the late beloved Robert Frost — modestly described by the publishers as "America's greatest poet." Across the country, with the exception of "The New York Times Book Review," which came forward last Sunday with a curiously discursive, hard-to-follow and even bombastic "analysis," the 60-year old Thompson's Volume 1 has been hailed as a remarkable contribution to the art, or science, of American biography.

Since 1936 the New Hampshire-born Thompson has been gathering materials for this biography, and undertaking requested by the poet but with the stipulation that it would not be published during his lifetime. Out of 30 years of "conversation and affectionate companionship has come an eloquent biography — this is the first of 2 volumes — that will surprise Frost's idolators. Thompson shows that there was very little in Frost's style that was spontaneous; he had to whittle laboriously at his poetry to achieve his rough-hewn colloquial effects. Even more interesting is the author's picture of Frost as a selfish, baffling, perverse and tormented soul, systematically creating a public image of a kindly, homespun and uncomplicated grandfather."

In his introduction, Thompson writes: "Frost was so fascinated by the story of his life that he never tired of retelling it. A good raconteur, he naturally varied his accounts, and whenever the facts troubled him, he discreetly clothed them with fictions." Thompson, one critic notes, has done everything he can to "set the record straight and when that has not been possible he says so. The arguments, the disputed points, the evidence are relegated to abundant notes in the back and he has told his story without encumbrance and in a prose style that is without mannerisms and one that is superbly gaited for a long effort."

A resident of Princeton since 1937, when he succeeded the late George Mann Peek as Curator of the University Library's Special Collections of Rare Books and Manuscripts, Thompson has made a life's work of understanding and interpreting for others the writings of New England's "literary giants." Six of his published works are peripheral to his Frost biography. There is also an excellent study of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow and "probably the most original and controversial study of Herman Melville ever published," the well-known "Melville's Quarrel with God," a book which has inspired unending flights of intellectual brickbats.

It was in 1938, ten years after he had been graduated from Wesleyan University and the year he received his doctorate from Columbia, that Thompson "scored" with his "Young Longfellow," the first realistic account of the poet's formative years. Even during World War II, while on duty with the Eastern Sea Frontier and rising to the rank of lieutenant commander, Thompson, a former member of the Township's Board of Education, continued to write. With official authorization, he hammered out the absorbing narrative of how an ill-starred sailing vessel on submarine patrol off Long Island managed to weather a hurricane and finally to limp into port a fortnight after all hope had been abandoned.

For never hesitating to challenge conventional interpretations of American literary phenomena; for his devotion to the "fascinating, paradoxical and deviously complex character which was Robert Frost;" for writing without fear of favor and with a greater admiration for the truth than for those of whom he writes; he is

ONE OF A KIND: Borough voters chose a Democrat, Robert M. Hendry (left), and a Republican, Charles W. Cornforth, to serve on Council in Tuesday's balloting.

This Is PRINCETON

WHAT'S THAT SOUND? Tickets Being Split. In an unusually heavy turnout for a non-presidential year, Princetonians did some highly independent thinking Tuesday at the polls.

In the Borough, they put Democrat Robert M. Hearn at the top of the ticket, electing him to Council with Republican Charles W. Cornforth. The two Princetons went heavily for Republican Sen. Clifford P. Case in his successful bid for re-election, but would not give another Republican, Ralph C. Chandler, a Township resident, a plurality over Rep. Frank Thompson Jr., who won another term in the House of Representatives

On the other hand, both Borough and Township contributed heavily to a stunning upset at the Freeholder level. Newcomers Karl Weidel and Clifford Sneedeker received margins of 300 votes in the Borough and more than 1200 in the Township — major contributions in their ability to become the first Republicans elected to the county governing body since 1946.

Princeton Township remained on its traditionally Republican side in refusing to name a Democrat — and a woman — to Committee. Mrs. Geraldine Boone, first member of her sex to seek office in the 150-year history of the municipality, polled 2117 votes — nearly 500 behind the winning totals for Republicans David S. Thompson and John D. Wallace.

"They Deserve It." Township pollee, who asked, in effect, "Do you think we're doing a good enough job to be given higher salaries than our governing body is willing to pay us?", got a resounding thumps on the back from the voters. The referendum they had petitioned to have placed on the ballot was approved, 3078 to 1173.

In common with the rest of the state, Princeton also backed the questions on re-appportionment and night horse-racing. Both municipalities were in favor, the total vote showing 6305 for reapportionment, 3163 opposed; 3733 willing to make racing as legal after dark as it is by day, and 2387 voting "no."

The Borough Council race, something of an upset in a trend that saw Republicans make inroads against the Democrats in gubernatorial and congressional elections, was so close that only 71 votes separated Mr. Hendry, the top man, from Dr. Leonard M. Berry, who was last.

Mr. Hendry, a newcomer to the political field — as was every one of the eight Borough and Township candidates — lost only the first, eighth and ninth of the nine Borough districts. The race was largely decided in the sixth, where he outpolled his opponents by 120 votes in a race that he won by 62.

The totals: Mr. Hendry, 1552; Mr. Cornforth, 1508; Fred M. Bliehert, 1490; Dr. Berry, 1481. Some 67% of the 4552 registered Borough voters went to the polls, while in the Township, 72% of the 6462 eligible cast ballots.

Mrs. Boone managed to earn a plurality only in three of the Township's nine districts — numbers one, three and four. Her total was ten percent ahead of that of her running mate, George Goldsmith. The winners, John D. Wallace and David S. Thompson, received respective totals of 2623 and 2603. They will help maintain the GOP's monopoly of the five-man committee when it reorganizes on January 2.

County Recount Probable. After more than 84,000 votes had been tabulated, Clifford Sneedeker appeared to have defeated Thomas Warwick, Democrat, in the closest race for Freeholder by a scant 275. There were, however, indications of discrepancies in the process of tabulation (two sets of returns were counted twice in the county clerk's office) and a move was made to impound all voting machines with an eye to an early recount.

Final totals on Wednesday morning gave Republican Karl Weidel 42,894; Mr. Snedeker, 42,395; Thomas Warwick, 42,120; and Benjamin Palumbo, 41,961.

Sen. Case was a landslide victor over Democrat Warren W. Wilentz, his plurality of more than 400,000 giving him a huge margin of nearly 2 to 1. So clear-cut was the liberal Republican's triumph that victory was claimed for him less than half an hour after the 8 p.m. closing of the polls. Princeton Township gave him a margin of better than 5 to 1 (3667 to 699), while the Borough favored him, 2093 to 777.

sweep Mercer County by some 20,000 votes more than offset the new-found Republican strength in Hunterdon, Warren and Sussex Counties, just added to the Fourth Congressional District.

Mr. Chandler, whose campaign frequently showed the effects of inexperience, barely won in the Township (2246 to 2212), carrying his own district by a slim margin. However, he lost in the Borough, 1094 to 1202.

REPUBLICANS WIN

In Nearby Municipalities. An upset victory in Lawrence Township marked Republican triumphs at the polls Tuesday in municipalities near Princeton.

Edward T. Converse, GOP candidate for Township Committee in Lawrence, led the ticket with 3656 votes, and his running mate, Daniel W. Williamson, was also elected with 3468. The losers were Mayor Joseph M. Mahan (3173) and Joseph Dalle Pazze Jr. (2967).

In West Windsor, Republican E. Alvin Carson received 1042 votes to defeat his Democratic opponent, Michael C. Greschak, who polled 659. Mr. Carson ran as an incumbent.

In Pennington, Republican Councilman William E. Schlutter won with 823 votes, as did his running mate, William E. Johannsen, with 544. The losers were John J. Donigan Jr., 333, and Thomas J McGann, 293. The referendum authorizing retroactive pension pay for municipal employees was approved, 599 to 208.

Hopewell Borough returned Republican Councilman Joseph N. Castoro to office with 541 votes and also elected GOP candidate Douglas Terhune, with 532. Hugh M. Gilmore and Jewel Moran, Democrats, drew 321 and 246, respectively.

The race for tax assessor went to Republican Samuel K. Hunt, 680 to 179 over Democrat Thomas B. Sprecher. Ruth E. Carver, Republican candidate for collector, won over Marcia L. Devlin, 680 to 175.

TOPICS Of The Town

TEENS GAIN SUPPORT

For Youth Center. Parents of teenagers have formed a working committee for a Princeton youth center, backing teenage efforts that began in January 1963.

The chairman is Thomas B. Hartmann of 178 Moore Street, associate director of the New Jersey Office of Economic Opportunity. Mrs. Everett E. Campbell is secretary. Thirty-nine parents have signed in, and the committee is open to all who want to become involved.

"The present generation of youth is the best resource we have in our society," Mr. Hartmann said after last week's organizational meeting. "I have tremendous faith and confidence in them. This is a very difficult community for the children. . . . They themselves have determined this need for a center and I think this is a very remarkable decision on their part. The committee is a supportive instrument."

While teenagers continue their fund-raising projects the group will hunt for land, raise money for a building, develop an organization plan for continuity of adult leadership and attempt to find a temporary meeting place for the teenagers.

According to Mrs. Floyd Campbell, "a need for this was felt five years ago and even before then when the Y-Teens used the Witherspoon Street Engineering Building.

"Even then, the children wanted an unstructured program. We tried this out in Tiger Town Teens at the YW-YMCA and we know how successful it is. We used the whole building, with dancing in one room, games in another, guitar-playing in another. But the YM-YW itself, the two Presbyterian churches, are not large enough to handle all the children."

2000 Teenagers. Another parent says that there is no place in Princeton where the children can go where they can "afford being themselves." Most mothers are either working or are not willing to have crowds in.

Mrs. Ulli Steltzer observes that "the pressures on young people today are just unbelieveably greater than in our generation because of education and college and job opportunities. Some of the kids are able to cope with it. They take the initiative. They are the leaders. But some are overwhelmed and flee for refuge in a crowd."

Another member adds, "There's no place in town big enough to hold them or set up to serve them. So here they are, being pushed around on Nassau Street!" There are nearly 2,000 teenagers circulating in Princeton.

The committee includes: Mr. and Mrs. John W. Ballantine, Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Baruch, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Benson, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Breese, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Everett E. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer Feldman, Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Fogiesong.

Also Mr. and Mrs. John B. A. Gaman, Mrs. Eloise Goreau, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Hammond, Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel I. Korman, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Margolis, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Male, Mr. and Mrs. Irving L. Newlin, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy E. Purvis, Dr. and Mrs. Archibald L. Sheeran, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Sheldon and Mrs. Ulli Steltzer.

"A Place of Our Own." The committee inherits a 30-year backwash of the successes and failures of short-lived centers. The Rose Cottage behind Borough Hall, Nassau Street School, "Shangrila" in Palmer Square during World War II (white children only); The Den, The Tomb, The Basement.

While the earlier teen centers seem to have lacked continuity of adult leadership and had minimal facilities, the failure of The Den, held in Dorothea House from February through June 1964, is the most thoroughly documented: Negro and white students polled by Young Life said the Den did not reach many teenagers because (1) capacity was only 50 to 75 students, (2) no variety in activities, (3) room dividers were needed, and (4) the whites didn't like being in the minority in the predominently Negro part of town.

Try Again. In 1965, the student councils of Princeton High, Princeton Day and Hun Schools held joint monthly meetings, concluding that the greatest needs of their age group was a "student lounge." It would provide a natural place where teenagers could get acquainted, provide a place for community teenage dances, talent shows, art exhibits, teenage news, drama center, job opportunities listings and a place to have a Coke in the afternoon.

Three hundred students came to Princeton's first inter-school dance, held on Halloween in Community Park School. Eighty percent of 1,270 teenagers polled by PHS Student Council President Art Buckland and his committee last February were interested in working for a lounge. Student leaders compiled a list of needed facilities for a lounge and a list of suggestions for operation and management.

After learning from architect Richard J. Chorlton that a building based on their needs could cost above $120,000 minimum, they began raising money. There were 1400 volunteers by March of this year, marking the beginning of a series of car washes, balloon sales, dances and special events.

"If people would have as much faith and confidence in this group as they deserve," Mr. Hartmann says, "they will rally to help."

The adult committee has not given itself a name so far, although "Parents For Youth" has been suggested. But a shout of amusement greeted the wry suggestion of Tom Gaman, 16-year-old chairman of the Student Lounge Committee, relayed by his mother: "Why don't you call yourselves 'The Old Ones'."

MONTGOMERY OUT

By 1968-70. Montgomery Township must withdraw all its students from Princeton High School by the end of the 1969-70 academic year.

Acting Commissioner of Education Joseph E. Clayton announced the ruling on Monday. His timetable no ninth graders from Montgomery will enter Princeton High next fall. Present ninth graders will be allowed to graduate in 1970, 10th graders will graduate in 1969, 11th graders will graduate in 1968 and seniors next June.

This is slower than the Princeton Regional School Board would have liked, but faster than Montgomery likes. Commissioner Clayton said in his ruling that Princeton "has established good and sufficient reason for termination" of the contract with Montgomery.

The contract actually expired in 1965 and Princeton High wanted Montgomery out then, but Montgomery asked the state for permission to keep some students at Princeton High until 1972 at present. 277 students from Montgomery are enrolled in the high school.

"Adherence to this schedule by Montgomery Township, together with prompt action toward construction of the needed high school in West Windsor, will make it possible to avoid a double session at Princeton High School," said Harvey D. Rothberg, president of the Princeton Regional Board, in comment on Commissioner Clayton's decision.

"We are confident," he added, "that Montgomery officials will be able to meet their responsibilities."

The Montgomery school board met Monday night and announced the appointment of an advisory committee of 38 township residents who will new begin to plan for a high school. It will make a study similar to that made a year ago by a Princeton Township citizens group, examining curriculum, finances and construction problems. Mickiewright and Mountford of Trenton will be the architects.

STUDENT DIES IN FALL

Auto Deaths Claim Two. A 19-year old University student, an 18-year-old girl and a 72-year-old boy died in accidents last week. Two men suffered fatal heart attacks while attending the Harvard-Princeton football game.

David B. Sloan of Province Line Road suffered a heart attack just before the end of the football game in Palmer Stadium. Taken to Princeton Hospital, he was pronounced dead on arrival at 3:40. (For the obituary see page 14.)

Before the game began, Herbert Lindelow, 62, of Somerville, collapsed in the press box. Taken to the hospital in the First Aid Unit ambulance, he was pronounced dead at 1:45.

The student was Peter A. Cahn of 1901 Hall. According to a witness he tried to jump from a fourth floor window in 1901 to a small balcony three feet away. Borough police said they received a report that Mr. Cahn had stepped on a fire hose that grows along the walls and in trying to remove it, he slipped and fell 60 feet.

Mr. Cahn was taken to Princeton Hospital where he died 45 minutes later at 6:02 p.m. of head injuries. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Cahn Jr. of New York City. Mr. Cahn is a partner in an investment banking firm.

A 1965 graduate of Phillips Exeter Academy, Cahn was an assistant editor of the University's Daily Princetonian. He is survived by his parents and two brothers. A Memorial Service was held Tuesday in the University Chapel.

Miss Kathy Budden, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Budden, Hollowbrook Road, Ewing Township, was killed early Monday morning when the car in which she was a passenger went out of control on Route 206, four miles north of Princeton. She was dead on arrival at Princeton Hospital at 3:10 a.m.

The driver, John Bozek, 20, and another passenger, Miss Joann Parziale, 18, both of Ewing, were admitted to Princeton Hospital in fair condition with severe facial cuts. Ambulances from Princeton and Rocky Hill transported the victims. State Police said that the car went out of control on a curve, smashed into a guard

Just a bit more than a month until winter arrives, and last week temperatures that dipped well below freezing were here to show the way.

rail and then hit a concrete abutment."

A seven-year-old Monmouth Junction boy was struck by an auto in front of his home Monday morning.

Stephen Lazlo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Lazlo, Major Road, was dead on arrival at Princeton Hospital at 8:25 a.m. of a skull fracture.

HITS TWO CARS

Charged With Drunken Driving. A Sea Bright woman was charged with drunken driving by State Police after she struck two cars Saturday night driving on Route 206.

State Police said that Elizabeth A. Curtis, 46, first sideswiped a car driven by Robert Hyde, 41, of Chatham. For this she was charged with failing to keep right and leaving the scene of an accident.

Her car continued on for about a mile and a half and then struck a second car near Black Bart's Restaurant, driven by Miss Isabelle DeLuca, 17, of Raritan. Both cars were extensively damaged.

Mrs. Curtis received multiple abrasions and contusions of the face. Miss DeLuce was released from Princeton Hospital after being X-rayed and treated for back injuries.

The same day, some five hours earlier at 3 p.m., Richard Hagy, 36, of Newtown, Pa., and Richard P. Morrison, 34 of Moorestown, collided on Washington Road and Fairview Avenue, four miles East of the Penns Neck Circle. Mr. Morrison, attempting to turn left onto Fairview, was charged with making an improper turn.

Sandy Herbner, 25, of Beverly, a passenger in the Morrison car was treated for lacerations of the forehead, contusions and a possible concussion and admitted to Princeton Hospital. Another passenger, Suzie Harris, 24, of Collingswood, was examined for minor injuries and released.

In the Township, Kenneth R. Power, 23, Route 518, Skillman, skidded during a heavy rain on Rosedale Road at 2:30 Sunday morning. His car left the road, hit the tree and then traveled another 18 feet before striking a second tree.

He was treated for a laceration of the nose at Princeton Hospital and released. Mr. Power told police he did not remember anything after his car started to slide.

Teeth Knocked Out. At 6:32 Thursday evening, Rene Carroll, 47, Trenton, an employee of Langrock's, received facial injuries when his 1966 sedan glanced off the rear of a 1966 station wagon in front of 286 Alexander Street.

Mr. Carroll suffered lacerations of the mouth and contusions of the jaw. He also had eight teeth knocked out when his mouth hit the steering wheel.

Mr. Carroll told police he suddenly saw a car backing across Alexander street. He steered to the right to avoid an accident but glanced off the rear of the car. He continued on another 55 feet and rammed a Public Service pole. Damage to the front of his car was extensive.

The other driver, Bruno Maddalon, 61, 286 Alexander, told the investigating officer, John Hammond, that he was backing out of his drive and did not see anyone until he felt his car being hit. He received head lacerations. Pfc. Hammond is still investigating the mishap.

Susan J. Schmidt, 17, 219 State Road, and her passenger, Carol Galinat, 17, of Allentown, sustained bumps on the foreheads when Miss Schmidt's car was involved in an accident with another Saturday evenning at 11:32 at the intersection of Hulfish Street and Palmer Square. It was raining hard at the time.

Police ticketed Willard Crawford, 46, of Philadelphia for failing to yield the right of way at an intersection. Police reported all witnesses to the mishap said that Mr. Crawford did not signal properly in attempting to turn left onto Palmer Square.

Early last week, Mrs. Bernice Stephens, 37 Leigh Avenue, was hospitalized when her car was involved in an accident with a school bus at the intersection of Burnt Hill Road and a driveway into the Neuro-Psychiatric Institute in Skillman.

Mrs. Stephens, who was trapped in her car, was taken to Princeton Hospital and admitted to its intensive care unit. Her condition was listed as poor.

Some 20 Montgomery Township School children on the bus, all pupils of Burnt Hill School, received an assortment of bumps and bruises and one chipped tooth. Their parents were notified and all were sent home for the day. The crash took place about 200 yards from the school building.

SPEED . . .

In Township, "in other words, we have to wait until we have an accident before we can file again," observed Township Mayor Carl C. Schafer wryly on Monday night after hearing that the state has refused to grant the Township a pair of "Stop" signs.

Province Line at Pretty Brook Road and at Pheasant Hill Road are the two intersections involved. The state has denied "Stop" signs because of "low vehicular activity," "low approach speed" and the fact that no serious accidents have occurred at either point.

Undaunted, Committee decided to try the state again in another quarter: speed on Terhune Road.

At present, a 25 m.p.h. limit prevails between Grover and Randall and between Walnut and Jefferson. The rest of Terhune is 50 m.p.h. all the way.

The Princeton Regional School Board has asked the Township to accept Guyot Avenue into the road system. Henry J. Frank, 126 Valley Road, expressed some concern about the fate of the Township traffic if Westminster Choir College closes its segment of Franklin Avenue on some distant future day.

Administrator Joseph R. Nini reminded Mr. Frank that the original Township-School Board agreement (it was the Borough School Board then) stipulated that an alternate road to Franklin must be built before Westminster can close Franklin off, and John Wallace of the Township Planning Board reassured Mr. Frank that the alternate in question was a re-aligned Franklin — not Guyot.

Committee, at the request of the Mercer County Freeholders, passed a resolution endorsing creation of a Scheduled Air Service Promotion Committee to push the use of Mercer County Airport.

Two school-crossing guards were appointed. Albert Carter of Yardley, Pa. will take up a newly constituted post at Guyot and Walnut. John O'Connor, 171 Harrison, will be the new guard at an old post: Abernathy and Snowden.

89-LB. ROAST STOLEN

From Quadrangle Club. An 89-pound ship's roast, valued at $75.40, was among several thefts reported along Prospect Avenue during the Harvard game weekend.

Peter Vielbig, manager of the Quadrangle Club, called police at 4:12 Saturday morning to report the roast missing from the kitchen. Pfc. William Hunter and Officer Bernard Lenhardt said that a screen door had been pulled away from a first floor rear door to gain entry. The roast was supposed to have been served at a luncheon for the alumni later that day, police said.

In other minor thefts, Margaret Siegel of Red Bank reported her yellow wallet containing $4 stolen from a coat room at the Quadrangle Club; Elizabeth Howell of Dallas, Tex., said two side screw-in windows were missing from her sports car parked behind the Terrace Club; and the steward at the Ivy Club reported the theft of a blue and white antique porcelin lamp.

In a late report, a Honokus woman notified police that a raccoon fur coat worn by her daughter was taken from an Elm Club coat room. She added the coat was an heirloom and valued at more then $300.

In a separate act of vandalism, Peter Fiumecaro Sr. of Church Street, Kingston, told police that the top of his convertible was slashed sometime between Friday afternoon and 2:30 Saturday morning. The car had been parked in the N. Tulane lot facing Spring Street.

WARN OF NEW RUSE

By Burglars, Detective Fred Porter reports that a new "gimmick" to gain entry into homes has come to the attention of Township Police.

He said burglars are preying on homes in which marriages are about to take place, especially where the wedding will be held out of town. Sgt. Porter continued that the modus operandi is to call the bride's or groom's home on the day of the wedding and have the caller say he is acting as a representative of Western Union.

The caller will then say he has some telegrams, and should they be delivered to the home or re-routed to the site of the wedding? "If the person says to re-route them, then it is possible the home will be entered," Detective Porter said.

Anyone receiving such a message is asked to call the police immediately, Sgt. Porter said, and also Western Union, to verify the call. He added that Western Union will co-operate fully with the police.

VANDAL? NO—THIEF: Not wanton vandalism but deliberate theft is responsible for this hole in the ground at Marquand Park. A rare old "Porcelein-berry" vine, rooted deep beneath this stump, was carefully dug up and stolen last weekend. The plant has unusual turquoise berry clusters in the fall but neither they nor the plant's name made it too heavy to cart away. It's called ampelopsis brevipedunculata.

PROFITS HIT NEW HIGH

At Midcast Aluminum, Raymond B. Sowers of 189 Constitution Drive, president of Midcast Aluminum Corporation, announced that the company's profits for the last six months have soared 116 percent over last year's mark for the period to reach a record $123,000. Midcast's main facilities are on Route 130.

The company's sales also rose 8% to $2,288,634. Mr. Sowers reported. The president attributed the gains to improvements in all phases of the company's operation, particularly in sales of semi-fabricated equipment.

Mr. Sowers added, however, that it was impossible to predict as strong a second half since "ramifications have been felt due to the 'tight money market'." The company has had to curtail sales promotion and development projects to provide "adequate profits and cash flow".

All of the families in the Princeton area with relatives serving in foreign countries are invited to participate in the program. Experience has shown that servicemen are enthusiastic about hearing the voices of their families.

The tapes are recorded in the studios at Red Cross headquarters, 71 University Place and then dispatched to the relatives. The recipients can keep them to replay or can erase

With 34 wives, even a king has to cut a few corners.

Big, fast, expensive cars have always been a passion with royalty. But a family man like King Njiiri of Kenya probably doesn't have very much position to spare.

Or very much money. (Things have been kind of slow lately in the king business.) Which makes him the kind of king that a Volkswagen is really fit for.

The price of a brand-new one - $1,639* - isn't much higher than the price of a brand-new wife. And a VW is a lot cheaper to support.

It gets about 27 miles on a gallon of gas. About 40,000 miles on a set of tires.

A Volkswagen also comes apart very easily. It only takes about ten minutes to take off a fender, or 45 minutes to take out the whole engine.) That makes repairing it easy. And quite inexpensive.

But when it's not being taken apart, a VW holds together very nicely. So even though old ones cost a good deal, they're still a good deal.

Especially if you're lucky enough to get one that was owned by an elderly king who only used it to go to court.

RENWICKS?

Postponement Seen. The First Presbyterian Church has refused to give Renwick's one of the two waivers the restaurant needs to obtain a liquor license.

Princeton University, which holds the second waiver in its power, has decided to remain neutral.

The Renwick liquor license request was on the agenda for Wednesday's 8 p.m. Borough Council meeting but it appeared that Harold Ostroff, owner of Renwick's, would have to ask for a postponement.

Mr. Ostroff has accepted an invitation from the First Presbyterian Church to meet this Thursday evening for a discussion of the problem.

The Church's Session, in action taken October 30, agreed that Renwick's is a reputable establishment with the legal right to ask for the license; however, the church decided, because of its deep involvement with teen-agers, not to grant the waiver. "The Tomb," popular teen gathering place, is in the basement of the church.

Anthony Maruca, assistant treasurer of the University, said that the University has decided on a neutral position.

Mr. Ostroff needs the two waivers to comply with state law because both the church and the University (a religious and an educational institution) are within 200 feet of his restaurant.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, not legally involved because it is outside the 200-foot limit on the corner of Nassau and Chambers, has sent a protest to Mayor and Council. St. Andrews' Session believes that granting Renwick's a liquor license would "not be in the best interests of the young people of Princeton."

Even if Mr. Ostroff received both the waivers, Borough Council could still deny him the license.

Beauty ON THE SQUARE

By Archimedes (Bernard)

Hair care is an integral part of a hairdresser's service to his patrons. And, the most important ingredient to the creation of a successful coiffure is healthy hair. A beautiful hair style demands healthy hair with lustrous highlights. Without healthy hair, a durable set is almost impossible to achieve.

Dull, dry, brittle hair can be treated and improved rapidly thanks to professional hair products. Dandruff, flaking, dryness, brittleness and splitting can be corrected or completely eliminated in many cases with the application of conditioning treatments and a program of good grooming.

Very often, what we call dry hair is hair that lacks natural oils (sebum) and moisture. Certain conditioning treatments replace these oils and re-establish softness, body, luster, manageability and natural feel."

For conditioning treatments that will do the most for your hair, come to TAVERNWOOD BEAUTY MANOR, 69 Palmer Square West, or call 924-3083. We really care about your hair.

PLANS, BUT NO MONEY

For University Building. A $2.5 million Computer Center Building has been designed for Princeton University, but there's just one catch: no $2.5 million.

The four-story Center will be built on land owned by the University between the Ferris Thompson faculty houses and 91 Prospect Avenue, where the alumni offices now are.

Within the Center, the University will house the computers needed by all the various departments of the University complex. There will be a ready room, a keypunch room, card file area and storage space, plus offices, reference library, class and conference room, consultation and console rooms, enclosed within about 52,000 square feet of space.

John P. Moran, the University's Director of Physical Planning, points out that the location is within walking distance of the Engineering Quadrangle, the science area and buildings housing humanities and social sciences.

"This building is of such vital importance to the University," Mr. Moran continued, "that we have moved ahead with our preliminary plans without knowing exactly when we shall be able to break ground."

Steinmann and Cain of New York are the architects. Plans will be filed with the Borough engineer's office later this week. University spokesmen have already discussed them with adjacent property owners.

PLENTY OF PAPER BACKS

At School Book Fair. Paper back books, ranging in price from 25c to $1, will be available at the Community Park School book fair next week.

The fair will be open from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. Monday through Wednesday.

COMPUTER CENTER PLANNED: Princeton University plans to build a Computer Center Building to serve its expanding needs in all areas of computer activity. When the necessary $2.5 million is available, the University will build the structure between the Ferris Thompson Homes on College Road and 91 Prospect (middle building, upper left corner). The Knights of Columbus Hall is at right.

TO SPEAK ON AFRICA

At Woman's Club Meeting. Mrs. Rex S. Clements will speak on "The Tribal Mark: A View of Africa" at the meeting of the Woman's Club of Princeton next Thursday November 17 at 1:30 at the Shrine Club on River Road. Mrs. Clements, who recently returned from a two-month trip to Nepal, India and Iran, has traveled extensively throughout the world.

The Woman's Club has contributed $738 to the Hospital Building Fund. The contribution was raised by a benefit card party and a luncheon and fashion show held at the Princeton Inn.

The club's officers are Mrs. Joseph S. Thomas president; Mrs. John E. Volmann, vice-president, departments; Mrs. Richard D. Challener vice-president, programs; Mrs. Vernon Grant Jr. vice-president, standing committees; Mrs. A. R. Main treasurer; Mrs. C. Lance Marshall Jr., recording secretary, Mrs. Robert Michael, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Ralph S. Holmes, federation secretary.

TWO DELLERS TO SING

Both Counter Tenors. Alfred Deller, born in 1912, began to sing when he was 11 years old and at the age of 16 was still singing the soprano part in Handel's "Messiah."

His voice then changed to male alto, or counter-tenor, the voice for which Bach wrote the alto solos in his cantatas, and the voice to which Purcell, who was also a counter-tenor, gave some of his most lyrical airs.

Mr. Deller will come to McCarter Theatre with his Deller Consort on Tuesday, November 22 at 8:30. With him will be his son, Mark, also a counter-tenor; two sopranos, a tenor, a baritone and a lute-player.

The program will contain English and Italian madrigals, French chansons, a group of English folk melodies and solos by the lute-player, Desmond Dupre. Mr. Deller Sr. will sing from the works of Purcell.

MUSIC FOR THE YOUNG

Concert Scheduled. A concert of "Music for Young People," will be given next Monday at 10:30 in McCarter Theatre by the Princeton Chamber Orchestra.

On the program will be excerpts from Benjamin Britten's "Les Illuminations" sung by Janice Harsanyi, wife of the Orchestra's conductor, Nicholas Harsanyi; Dello Joio's "Meditations on Ecclesiastes," Mendelssohn's "Symphony No. 9 and Vivaldi's Concerto in A Major for String Orchestra and Cembalo.

Mrs. Harsanyi performed the Britten work last spring in the State Department Auditorium at Washington on the invitation om Mrs. Lyndon Johnson. She also sang it last week at the Princeton Orchestra's concert in Montreal, the orchestra's first appearance before a foreign audience. The Orchestra plans to record the entire work for Decca Records for release in January.

WORDS AND MUSIC

To Introduce Exhibit. Prof. Kenneth J. Levy, musicologist, will introduce Princeton University's exhibition "A Historical Survey of Music in the Western World" with a public lecture next Monday at 8:30 p.m. in 10 McCosh Hall.

Prof. Levy's speech, illustrated with slides and records, will describe the highlights of the exhibition, which will open that evening in the main gallery of Firestone Library. Materials for the exhibition cover 2,000 years of musical history.

Holder of a Princeton doctorate, Prof. Levy joined the University faculty earlier this year. He was formerly chairman of the department of music at Brandeis University in Boston.

AMATEURS TO MEET

Bach Program Planned. The Princeton Society of Musical Amateurs will meet on Sunday at 5 at the Woolworth Center of Princeton University. The program, which will be conducted by Mrs. Barbara Lewis, will feature Bach cantatas 10, 48 and 72.

Soloists who will perform are Jean B. Thomas, soprano; Kathe Swab and Mary Jo Jansson, altos; Terry Penner and Albert W. Jansson, tenors; and William Trego, bass. The public is invited. Those planning to attend should call Mrs. M. B. Gottlieb, 921-7214.

BANJO PROGRAM PLANNED

At Folk Society Meeting. The November meeting of the Princeton Folk Music Society, which will be held Friday at 7:15 p.m. at the Nassau Street School, will feature a program on the fretless banjo.

James Porter of the Bucks County Folk Song Society will perform on the banjo and play tapes of fretless banjo music, including recordings of the late Frank Proffitt. The public is invited.

TO PLAY LUTE

In Public Program. The Friends of Music at Princeton will sponsor a public concert of lute music and songs to the lute next Thursday, November 17, at 8:30 in 10 McCosh Hall on the University campus.

The noted Belgian musicians, Christine Van Acker and Michael Podolski, will perform. Miss Van Acker is a mezzo-soprano, and Mr. Podolski, a lutist. Their repertoire includes solo cantatas, Spanish Romances, English operatic arias, Elizabethan lute music and works by Bach. They have toured Europe, Africa and the West Indies.

David B. Sloan, 63, of Province Line Road, died Saturday afternoon of a heart attack while watching the Harvard-Princeton football game in Palmer Stadium. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Princeton Hospital.

President of Gibbs and Hill, Inc., a consulting engineering firm in New York, Mr. Sloan began his association there in 1941. He held office successively as engineering manager, vice-president in charge of production, executive vice-president and — for the past 12 years — as president. Two years ago, Gibbs and Hill became a subsidiary of the Dravo Coporation, and Mr. Sloan was elected a director of the latter firm.

A graduate of Princeton University, Class of 1925, Mr. Sloan received an advanced degree in civil engineering here and then spent ten years with the Alabame Power Co. Three years with the Transit Bureau in Newark as an engineer in subway construction were followed (from 1934-39) by association with the Port of New York Authority in the planning and construction of the Lincoln Tunnel. Prior to joining Gibbs and Hill, he had served with other engineering firms, one of which was responsible for the construction of the Thomas A. Edison Bridge at Perth Amboy.

Mr. Sloan had been president of the Class of 1925 and of the alumni association of the Princeton School of Engineering. He was a past president of the Springdale Golf Club and of the Princeton Investors. From 1951 to 1956, he served for two terms as Democrat on the Lawrence Township Committee.

Mr. Sloan was a native of Ravenne, O. He leaves his wife, Harriet Jackson Sloan; two sons, David of Old Greenwich, Conn., and Jackson of New York; two brothers, Hugh W. of Princeton and William B. of Sewickley, Pa., and two grandchildren.

The funeral was held at Trinity Episcopal Church, with burial in All Saints Cemetery under direction of the Mather Funeral Home. Contributions in his memory may be made to the scholarship fund of the Princeton Engineering Association.

Edward V. Baldwin, 80, of 20 Spruce Street, died on November 2 in Princeton Hospital. An accountant and former teller at First National Bank, he was the husband of the late Edith M. Baldwin.

Born in Hunterdon County, Mr. Baldwin lived in Princeton during most of his life. He was an accountant for many private business firms in Princeton, and during the early 1900's was a teller at First National. He was a member of Princeton Lodge 38, F & AM; Hook & Ladder Fire Company; Princeton Firemen's Association, Trenton Forest 4, Tall Cedars of Lebanon and was a charter member of the Princeton Lions Club.

Surviving is a foster sister, Mrs. Anna Thines of Beverly.

The service was held at the Kimble Funeral Home, the Rev. Dr. William L. Tucker, pastor emeritus of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, officiating. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery under direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

Joseph J. Ianuzzi, 77, of Burnt Hill Road, Skillman, died on November 5 in Somerset County Hospital after a lengthy illness. He was the husband of the late Mrs. Caroline Ianuzzi.

A resident of this area for the past 30 years, he was a member of the Italian-American Club of Princeton.

Surviving are a son, Joseph F. Ianuzzi; two daughters, Mrs. Mildred Sleier and Miss Rose Ianuzzi, all of Skillman; a brother, Nicholas, and a sister, Mrs. Anthony LaRocco, both of New York City.

Requiem high mass was celebrated in St. Alphonsus Church, Hopewell. Interment was at the convenience of the family.

Mrs. Theresa K. Borosko, 79, of Borosko Place, Princeton Junction, died on November 3 in Princeton Hospital. She was the widow of Joseph Borosko.

News Of The CHURCHES

TO MARK 150TH YEAR

Of Dutch Neck Church. Two services marking the founding of First Presbyterian Church, Dutch Neck, to a log building 150 years ago will be held this weekend. Arthur Everett is chairman of the anniversary committee.

The Rev. Dr. Elmer G. Homrighausen, dean of Princeton Seminary, will speak at a Service of Grateful Commemoration at 8 p.m. this Thursday. Participants will include the great-grandson of the organizing pastor, Dr. C. Ransom Comfort; the Rev. James Mechem of Kingston Presbyterian Church and the Rev. Dr. Carl Wolf of Cranbury Presbyterian Church.

Dr. James I. McCord, president of Princeton Seminary, will give a sermon entitled "A Living Church" at Sunday's Service of Re-dedication at 11 a.m. A reception follows the service.

Assisting the anniversary committee chairman are Eva A. Bergstrom, Geraldine H. Conover, John E. Keigler, Mildred R. Moore, Russell B. Post, William Reed and Jeffrey Wetterling.

According to the Rev. James S. Weaver, pastor, the church was founded by residents who had been traveling by horseback or farm wagons to churches in Cranbury, Kingston, and as far as Old Tennent Church near Freehold. The first building was a log structure used for church and civic purpose. This was followed by a small frame building, probably built in 1816, which is part of the church building today. The church has always been surrounded by a graveyard which was in existance before the Revolutionary War.

The Rev. David Comfort of Kingston Presbyterian Church was appointed by the New Brunswick Presbytery in 1816 as partime minister. The congregation numbered four elders (William Post, John R. Covenhoven, Peter Cooper and Levi Updike) and 25 members. Today the church has more than 800 members, 24 of whom have been communicants for more than half a century.

WALLACE ELECTED

Warden at All Saints', John H. Wallace was elected warden of All Saints' Chapel at last week's annual meeting. He succeeds K. Evan Gray.

Also named were Gilbert C. Turner, treasurer; John H. Howard, clerk; James J. Chandler, diocesan convention representative-delegate; William Flemer III, alternate; Mrs. Stuart Robson, Burlington-Trenton convocation representative-delegate, and Mrs. Kenneth Wachtel, alternate.

The Rev. Harry J. Lauer Jr. vicar, in reporting on activities since his arrival in September, praised the "great team effort" by the congregation. He noted that several needed committees are now in action with responsibilities for buildings and grounds, Christian education, mutual responsibility, stewardship (including annual canvass) and music. A finance committee will soon be formed.

"Adult education," he said, "needs more emphasis and imaginative thinking." He stressed the need to re-evaluate the Chapel's mission, both within its congregation and beyond; and the importance of long-range planning for the Chapel against the background of Princeton's growth pattern, as well as the need for closer ties between new and old members of the Chapel.

The adult choir presented music by Buxtehude at the evening service that preceeded the meeting. Roderick Ironside was tenor soloist, and string players were Danae Mercy Horvath, Louise Flemer and Claudia Stoy.

RAISE $341

At Teens' Dance. Ellie Armstrong, president of Trinity Teens, reports that $341 net was raised at the October 29 dance at the church—a record amount.

Funds will be used for Red Cross materials which the Teens are sending to Vietnamese school children, for a Christmas party at Knight Cottage at the N.J. Neuropsychiatric Institute, and to refurbish the Teens' "Upstairs Room" at the church.

PLAN VICTORY PARTY

At Unitarian Church, Kenneth Spear, chairman of the $300,000 building fund campaign for the Unitarian Universalist Church, has announced plans for a victory celebration at 8 p.m. Friday at the church. The drive is close to the goal line.

The Rev. Robert L. Cope will be principal speaker. Albert Marckwardt, president of the congregation, will preside. The program includes reports by chairmen and captains and a slide show on the past, present and future of the church. All members and friends are invited to attend.

CHRIST AND HIS CHURCH

Theme of Gospel Series. J. Harold Thomas, minister of the Groton, Conn., Church of Christ, begins on Sunday a week-long series of meetings at Princeton Church of Christ to re-examine the Christian life as it has been lived and as it ought to be lived. He will speak at 6:30 p.m. on Sunday and at 7:30 p.m. on each of the following evenings. There will be no meeting on Saturday, November 19.

Mr. Thomas, a gifted speaker, is former president of Northeastern Christian Junior College, Villanova, Pa. His theme for discussion is: Christ and His Church.

BULLETIN NOTES

Organ recitals by Westminster Choir College students are given every Thursday from 1:30 until 2:05 in Miller Chapel of Princeton Seminary. The public is welcome. This week's organist is William Whitehead who has just completed a transcontinental concert tour.

Liturgy & Social Action will be discussed at the Institute on Church and Society this Friday by the Rev. Raymond Schulze, co-leader of the Prince of Peace Volunteers training center established in September in New Haven, Conn. He will show how liturgy is the resource of the church seeking social involvement with the world. The Institute, sponsored by Messiah Lutheran Church, is scheduled for 8 p.m. in the Riverside School.

Trinity Teens will hear a talk on "What Does the Church Offer to Young Adults and Vice Versa" this Sunday by Rogers Carrington, executive director of Youth Associates, and an ordained Presbyterian minister.

Sociologist Wilbert E. Moore, former Princeton University professor, will address the University of Life this Sunday in Princeton Methodist Church. Dr. Moore, presently with the Russell Sage Foundation, will discuss "The New Shape of Work in a Technological Society." A covered dish supper at 6 preceeds the meeting.

Young Adults are invited to hear Ralph C. Chandler discuss the "Ins and Outs of Elections" at Monday's 7:30 p.m. session of "Speak Easy" in the conference room of First Presbyterian Church.

K. M. LIGHT
REAL ESTATE

THERE'S NO OTHER HOUSE LIKE THIS ONE on the market in Princeton, or any other area that we know of. If you adore split levels, center hall Colonials, compact ranch houses, you'll hate this one. But if you like a combination of casual charm, somewhat mad layout and endless possibilities for variations on the theme, this is for you.

The rambling frame house, nestled on a lovely wooded setting, conveys a feeling of its personality on first sight. The rustic atmosphere moves inside with paneling in many rooms, including the large living room with brick fireplace wall. Besides the kitchen, there are four more first floor rooms (one with fireplace) plus tiled bath and laundry-powder-bathhouse room. The rooms are of varying sizes (one is about 25 x 47, for instance!) The upstairs is quite regular — four nice bedrooms plus tiled bath. Storage space is plentiful. The three lovely acres, including box stall, potential playhouse and pretty fenced pool with brick terrace, are an all-age playground.

IN MEDIAS RES: You and your family can walk everywhere from this handsome older Colonial. Schools from kindergarten through 12th grade, the YMCA and Nassau Street shopping are all just a brisk walk from its door. Inside that door, by the way, you'll find a tile floored vestibule opening to a wide center hall. There's a 26' living room with fireplace and windows on three sides, a formal dining room, modern kitchen and powder room on the ground floor. Upstairs, 4 corner bedrooms and bath. There's a marvellous semi-finished attic which could easily be converted for so many uses and a full cellar. Two car garage. Lovely, private garden with many trees, offered for rent at $275 per month or for sale at $36,000

WE DOUBLE DARE YOU. To compare this Western Township 5 bedroom 3½ bath house with any other currently offered for sale in Princeton. We think you'll agree that it represents a really unusual value. All the rooms you want are there and they're all big. Entrance hall, living room with fireplace, dining room with wall of glass overlooking stone floored screened porch, equipped kitchen, and playroom. If you don't need all those bedrooms one is lined with bookshelves and would make a fine study. Full, dry cellar and two car garage. Plaster walls, central air-conditioning. Immeculate condition. On over two acres with myriad trees. A $40,000 mortgage is available at $64,500

SCOOP! TWO PRINCETON TOWNSHIP BUILDING LOTS: These two 1½ acre prime residential sites have just come on the market and we think you're among the first to know. Heavily wooded, interesting terrain with city utilities. Unless we miss our bet these will be gone in a thrice at $17,500 spiece.

A MATTER FOR THE CHILDREN: Room to play in. Parents will be delighted by the safety of this quiet no traffic Township street and the kids will love all the trees to swing in and the open side yard for games. And for cold, rainy days there's the play room and the big warm cellar. As for the rest of the house, there's a sunken living room with fireplace, separate dining room, kitchen, 3 bedrooms and 2½ baths. Two car garage. Newly on the market. $37,000

IF TIME IS OF THE ESSENCE: We can show you a fine 5 bedroom Township house that can be yours before Thanksgiving. Situated on a small, easily cared for in-town lot with trees on a quiet cul-de-sac, it has living room with fireplace, dining room, glassed-in breakfast room overlooking the garden, and kitchen. There's a panelled playroom, laundry room and 3 full baths. Two car garage, cellar and central air-conditioning. $53,000

THREE ON A TRAIN: It may not be the Super Chief, that famous '20's' train to fame, but it may lead to fame just the same. David Mocck, Ken Costigan and Susan Babel are three vaundeville performers who expect to break into Hollywood in the Kaufman-Hart comedy, "Once in a Lifetime" scheduled to open at McCarter Theatre this Friday. The train? It goes to P.J. and B. Where else?

News Of The THEATRES

"SUNSHINE"

Intime Has Musical. You've got to hand it to Little Mary Sunshine, the lyric says, and by George, on our honor as a Forest Ranger, they're right.

Rick Besoyan's happy little spoof of old-time operetta is now on stage at Murray Theatre under the red-white-and-blue of Theatre Intime, the undergraduate theatre organization, and you may see it this Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights at 8:30.

In fact, you should see it—just pick your night. It's rough, sure, and the dust-pianist sometimes march to a different drum than the singers, but you want Bernstein?

To start with, "Little Mary Sunshine" has been admirably and happily cast and expertly directed by R. Edward Townley. Brian Donegan, the senior history major who plays Captain Jim Warrington of the Forest Rangers, is husky, stalwart, blond and clean and even LOOKS like Nelson Eddy. (Sorry, Mr. Donegan.)

Ann Stovall, the Westminster Choir College voice student, is lovely, starry-eyed, pink-cheeked and winsome as our Mary, the lass who runs the Colorado Inn bakes cookies and blends her voice in ardent song with the good Captain.

The Show Stealer. But it's Claudia Deverall as Nancy Twinkle who steals the show right out from under their noses, as they say. Miss Deverall is a Princeton undergraduate and the program notes are certainly right when they refer to her as the prettiest member of the class of '68.

She's one of those rare young ladies studying at Princeton under the Critical Languages Program and she will scurry right back to Mt. Holyoke next year, but what a pleasure to have her on stage while we can! Her Nancy, with a twinkling eye for men, men, men, is a saucy little foil for the nicely comic Billy Dexter of Blair Labatt (he's a sophomore).

There are some Indians, too, most of them named Yellow Feather, and a mis-guide named Fleet Foot whose plight should be brought to the attention of the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

The plot is a sweetly hemstitched bit of old lace and the songs are an absolute delight, even though they are sung wateringly at times. "Colorado Love Call" (you-hoo!)" a balanical exercise called "You're the Fairest Flower" "an American byoooooooo-ty Rose"! and "The Forest Ranger" — ah, there's a marching tune to set the blood a-fire!

You'll be happiest with Billy Jester's initiation rites into the Kadota tribe, Nancy Twinkle's roguish Black eyes in almost any scene, the finale to the last act with everything on stage except Mercer Engine Company No. One and the play's most memorable line, one that will stay warm in your heart for many a cold night to come — "Remember, only YOU can prevent forest fires!!"

—Katharine Bretnall

TO DIE IN MADRID, a stirring account of the Spanish Civil War, fought at a cost of one million lives, captures the agony of individuals as well as a nation when nationalist forces led by Franco (above) joined with Germany and Italy to topple the infant Republican government.

of the people appearing on stage in McCarter's "Once in a Lifetime" weren't even born or thought of when the Kaufman-Hart comedy was written, but it was that way with "Hamlet" and "Agamemnon," too.

"Once in a Lifetime" will open this Friday at 8:30 as the fourth and last in the fall McCarter repertory series. It will play again this Saturday at 8:30, next Thursday at 7:30 and Saturday, November 19, at 8:30.

Anthony Stimac, who directed "Agamemnon," is directing "Once," too, and he observed in the press release this week that "we are approaching the production with love and affection in hopes that we can capture some of the marvelous optimism and boundless enthusiasm for life possessed by the people in the late 1920's."

Susan Babel, Ken Costigan and David Mogck will play the three vaudevillians who head for Hollywood, Louis Galterio, Michael MacRae, Maggie Stuart and, in fact, the entire company will perform.

"NUTCRACKER" AGAIN

Third Year. The Christmas season's traditional ballet, "The Nutcracker," with all the well-loved Tschaikowsky music, will be staged for the third time this year at McCarter by the theatre and the Princeton Ballet Society.

Tickets will go on sale next Monday at the theatre box-office for the three performances: Friday, December 16, at 8:30; Saturday, December 17, and Sunday, December 18, at 2:30.

Choreography by Audree Estey and Lila Brunner and settings and decor by Stephen Hendrickson will again form the framework for the production.

HOW'S YOUR STYLE?

Buffy Will Tingle It. "An eerie tremble that crawls up the listener's spine. . . ." is the way the "Time" man described the voice of Buffy Ste. Marie, due to check in at Alexander Hall next Friday, November 18, at 8.

McCarter Theatre is sponsoring Buffy's appearance, her first in Princeton. She's a full-blooded Cree Indian and has been called—it's the "Time" man again—"a little girl lost behind a battered big-bellied guitar . . . in a trade plagued by imitators studiously imitating each other, she is uniquely herself."

FILMS: FAR OUT

And Way Ahead. Ten films by leading experimental film makers will be shown at McCarter next Monday at 8. The showing is intended for adults only, and admission will be sold at the door.

Artists whose work will be shown are Stan Vanderbeek, Carmen D'Avino, Kenneth An-

NEW LOUNGE OPENS

Have a Coq-Tail? Not the hair of the dog but the tail of the coq—that's the order at Au Coq-Tail Lahiere, the new little cocktail lounge at 7 Witherspoon next to Lahiere's Restaurant.

Au Coq-Tail Lahiere—and isn't that a delightful name? —will open this Friday, and the Monsieurs Christen, who own Lahiere's, hope that you will decide to cross the corridor to the restaurant and stay for dinner after you've had your aperitif.

The new lounge seats about 25-30 people on three settees, some comfortable captains' chairs with arms and charming little side chairs.

James St. Staples Graham, 195 Nassau, who designed the Patisserie for Lahiere's has done Au Coq-Tail, too. He has arranged a small vestibule so you won't be blown away by a breeze when customers open the door. The vestibule's floor is an inviting three-quarter Spanish "tile" in pleasant contrast to the intricate diagonals of the walnut parquet on the rest of the floor.

Walls are all walnut panels with light grasscloth above, near the ceiling. It's the same grasscloth that lines the walls of the little corridor separating the lounge from restaurant. Tweed carpeting in shades of claret, rose and Burgundy covers the corridor floor.

The walnut bar, with its black matte vinyl border, is backed by three panels of gold and brown tortoise shell and soft indirect amber light.

These settees are cheerful! black and white houndstooth, and the side chairs are wine "velvet" (the finest Burgundy, of course. . . .)

Captain's chairs have easy arms that repeat the black vinyl around the bar. Antique white mahgahyde has been used on other chairs.

Tables have the most realistic slate tops—bring your chalk and you can work out New Math problems on them after the second martini.

An interesting translucent antique glass on the Witherspoon Street windows keeps the atmosphere secluded and intimate, but lets a warm light shine through.

See you Friday. . . . .

GLITTER AHEAD

For Christmas. When you take 600 sequins and 90 faceted jewels and use them to decorate a pale gold hanging Christmas tree two feet high, you have Christmas light and shine every inch of the way.

Mrs. Willian Martin of Hopewell Township has made a collection of one-of-a-kind Christmas ornaments which will have you decorating your house the minute the Thanksgiving turkey is off the table.

Besides the tree, she has made jeweled balls to hang from branch or chandelier, quietly gleaming gold angels and satin teardrops—all of them one-of-a-kind because "I would be so bored, making a lot of things just alike!"

Mrs. Martin works at her home, and if you want a delightful ride in the country, you may visit her there and see what she has. However she will also bring her carton-full of ornaments right to your own house any time you wish. We recommend this procedure, because then you can see precisely which colors go with your decor, and which sequins and jewels will best catch your own light. She can make balls and ornaments in the colors that suit you best, if you choose.

"By Appointment"

Toys, selected at leisure while the kiddies are home in bed dreaming of — do kids still dream of sugarplums?

Zinder's has thoughtfully arranged to be open after 5 p.m. so that you can drop in and buy toys without the usual distractions and the eternal pressure of time.

Call Zinder's, at 921-2191 and make an appointment for the evening most convenient for you. Discount prices will be the same and you'll have individual attention and help if you want it, or complete freedom to browse if you'd rather have it that way.

Our favorite is a royal blue satin ball decorated with crystals and pale green velvet ribbon. You should see how it catches the sunlight—prisms all around.

A similar ball is a pale lime green satin outlined with Christmas red velvet ribbon which is, in turn, outlined with pearls.

For that chandelier in your hall, Mrs. Martin has a ball with a big ball about eight inches in diameter, with 181 jewels and 90 sequins in little floral patterns against pale turquoise. Ribbons of pale gold separate the glittering petals.

This big ball is $9 and the royal blue is $7.73. (The odd cents is tax!

However, you may have a Christmas ball for as little as $2.50, and a minute angel for only $3. These two-inch angels are hand-painted clay, gaily dressed in silver and blue, white with emeralds or a regal gold with purple. Think of a choir of them around a cluster of candles.

An eight-inch angel ($6), all in gold, has been artfully made out of—an old white sheet! Mrs. Martin draped the sheet carefully, gathered it at the waist with cord, then sprayed it into stiffness with gold paint. The angel has a golden head and wings.

FILMS: CLOSER IN

Orson Welles. Continuing with its retrospection of Orson Welles, McCarter Theatre will show his "Othello" next Tuesday at 8.

Made in 1955, "Othello" is still regarded by many critics as the best motion picture version of the play. It was written for the screen by Welles, who also stars.

Supporting players include Michael MacLiammoir, Suzanne Cloutbier and Robert Coote.

PLAYHOUSE

Born Free and Cat Ballou (through Saturday) Two excellent films return to Princeton. "Born Free" is the intriguing story of the near-domestication of a lion cub and the later efforts of a white hunter and his wife to teach the animal to survive in the jungle.

Lee Marvin's outsize performance as the has-been gun fighter in "Cat Ballou" is not to be missed. The movie, a great spoof on the wild, wild west, launched a spate of similar films which have not quite matched it.

Cat on a Hot Tin Roof and Butterfield 8 (Sunday through Tuesday) are two Elizabeth Taylor vehicles brought back for another look. Both are through-the-wringer d r a m a although "Butterfield 8" lacks the punch of O'Hara's original.

PRINCE

Khartoum (now playing). The 1884-85 siege of Khartoum on the Nile with Charlton Heston as British General Gordon and Laurence Olivier as the fanatic Mahdi — a forgotten page of history excellently retold. (Reviewed in last wee's issue.)

GARDEN

Alvarez Kelly and To Die in Madrid (now playing): A Civil War story in which the Rebs, led by RRichard Widmark, connive to rustle the herd of cattle brought by rancher William Holden to the Union lines. (Reviewed in last week's issue.)

The documentary on the fall of Madrid has played the Garden before. It is an uncomprising comment on the waste of war.

POOL FOR CHRISTMAS?

It's All Above Ground. If Thanksgiving comes, can Memorial Day be far behind?

Sylvan Pools must have the answer, because they've begun promoting a new swimming pool. The company, for the first time in its 19-year history now has an above-ground pool.

"An above-ground pool not only appeals to families with limited budgets," says Sylvan's president Herman Silverman, "it is also an ideal investment for families who expect to move in a few years; you just fold it up and take it along with you."

That's not so flippant as it sounds. These Sylvan topsiders can be put up or taken down in three days, and they meet the zoning requirements of any community in the eastern United States, according to Mr. Silverman.

"The Vacationer," as Sylvan calls its new pool, is made of Alco baked enamel aluminum with a vinyl liner. With it, in a package so to speak, you get Sylvan's automatic sand filter, built-in Hy-Flo surface skimmer, safety grip aluminum coping, a three-step ladder into the pool, carpeted walkway around the whole pool, an aluminum fence and a lockable entrance.

If you wish, Sylvan has a sundeck and pool heater, but these are optional.

"The Vacationer" is not only more reasonable than a dug pool, it is also available with financing. Princeton's Sylvan office is in the Princeton Shopping Center.

TOWN TOPICS reaches every home and place of business served by the Princeton post office. By their own figures, no other Princeton newspaper does half as well.

Too Easy to Get a Drink.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Your recent story (Town Topics, Oct. 27) on the crowds of teen-agers in town on weekends gave the wrong impression by blaming the church dances for the influx of young people from out of town.

They are not coming for the church dances—they come for sole reason only—to drink. Princeton is notorious for being the easiest town in the area for a teen-ager to buy a drink. Any youngster with the price of a six-pack or bottle and a quarter or fifty cents for the runner can get liquor in Princeton.

It is almost unbelieveable that Princeton's small town—cannot solve this problem. In New Brunswick—much larger and with many industrial and slum areas—it is impossible for a teen-ager to get a drink. It is also impossible for them to get away with pills or marijuana—such is not the case with Princeton.

Another source of drink in Princeton is the University. Any boy or girl, singly or in groups, can walk into the clubs and dorms and get a drink or buy it from a student. I suggest to the University administration that they take steps to see that the teen-agers do not have such easy access to the clubs and dorms.

I can suggest several other steps to the town:

1. Instead of arresting the teen-agers, dry up their source of supply. There are only so many liquor stores in town. Ask the cooperation of the owners.

2. Ask the University to police their student activities better. No one should be able to walk in off the streets and get into the clubs. Their activities should be restricted to the students and invited guests only. At Rutgers, unauthorized people in the fraternities and dorms mean social probation for the offending group for periods up to a year. Rather than have this, the students police their own members.

3. Try to impress on parents not to drive and leave their youngsters alone. Invariably this means a party with paid admissions and "bring your own drinks." One recent party had more than 200 guests during the course of the evening.

Don't blame the kids too much—if you make it so easy for them, they will avail themselves of the opportunity. Be glad for the church dances, they are doing a wonderful job by letting the kids know there is a place to go where they are wanted, instead of being considered unwanted pests.

Loop Road Questioned.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The projected location of the Loop road through the Township is being objected to by those through whose property it would run. It should also be viewed with alarm by residents of Princeton no matter what part of town they live in. The section of the road, cutting through the woods and fields between Rosedale Roitad and the Lawrenceville Road, would destroy entirely a unique piece of woodland, the like of which no longer exists elsewhere in Princeton.

A small stream tributary to Stony Brook runs through it. there are trees of great age and smaller trees and some wonderful stands of rhododendron and leucothoe. It retains the look of wilderness, yet it has the added beauty produced by careful plantings over many decades, which no other woods in this area can show, and it is, as well, an ideal shelter for birds and wild life.

Its destruction would be an irretrievable loss to those of us who hope that Princeton can retain some vestige of beauty of natural countryside. Looking some decades to the future, we might find that this small woodland might someday become a park for Princeton, when all around it has been built up. At the other end of town, the Herrontown woods provide such country feeling, and, if spared, the tract east of Province Line Road could be another oasis.

No matter where the road goes, people are going to be upset, but if it is put here, all who want to see some beauty of stream and woodland preserved will be losers. If this Loop road is absolutely necessary, surely widening the existing Province Line Road, a few hundred yards away, could be done rather than pursue the present plan which would destroy so much of our vanishing countryside beauty.

There will be a meeting at Township Hall on Tuesday, November 22, when the matter will be discussed again. Everyone, living in Borough or Township, who believes it would be wrong to put through this road as now planned, should attend.

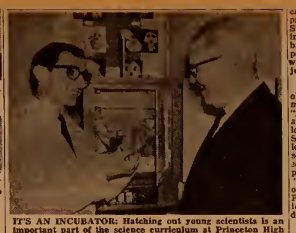
40 Year's Experience



IT'S AN INCUBATOR: Hatching out young scientists is an important part of the science curriculum at Princeton High School. This incubator is used in the advanced biology course for 12th graders, a course given at PHS because the students asked for it. Frank M. Strohaber (right), chairman of the science department, talks over incubation with science teacher Edwin Brown.

SCIENCE FOR ALL

Students Want Advanced Work. Microbiology for seventh graders right through to advanced biology for the 12th grade — that's the six-year science curriculum offered to students in the Princeton Regional System.

The science program was outlined before the Board of Education at the Board's last meeting by Kenneth Bowers, elementary school science coordinator and junior high science teacher, and Frank M. Strohaber, chairman of the high school science department.

The presentation was the first in a series on various aspects of curriculum and extra-curriculum in the school system. "Special Services" will be described at the Board's November 22 meeting.

That advanced 12th-grade biology course is unusual, Mr. Strohaber said. Most high schools give only an elementary biology course, but students at Princeton High petitioned for an advanced course, and won their case.

"We've written our own second-year biology course — molecular biology," Mr. Strohaber explained. "We teach in a team, and in a way, we feel we're students ourselves again. 'How shall we present this material?' we ask ourselves or 'What can we add to the lab?'"

Step No. One. But long before 12th grade, young scientists have begun in seventh grade, to learn about "Time, Space and Matter" or have been introduced to elementary physical and life science.

"In 'Time, Space and Matter' we take a slower, more thoughtful approach to science," Mr. Bowers said, "although this is not a 'slow' course. In T.S.M., the emphasis is on the method of learning, not just on memorizing facts. For example, we'll have students make their own thermometers, to learn how one ticks. And we include as much math into the course as we can."

Other Junior scientists are divided into small groups of eight each. These eight youngsters, with Mr. Bowers, can actually work with scientific equipment, instead of idly watching while leader does the experiment.

During this time, another small group is with the librarian and still another is between earphones, listening, perhaps, to a dramatization of the discovery of radium. Other boys and girls are working on a programmed lesson.

"We use a lot of audio-visual equipment for the part of the class that isn't doing the experiment" Mr. Bowers added.

In seventh grade, students look for the microscopic world beneath the high-powered lens; they explore "matter" and in the warm days of spring, go outside to learn botany.

Eighth graders take up zoology and energy. A four-week field study program was held last summer in the Johnson Park School woodlands.

Now We're in PHS. In high school, three of the 17 ninth grade science sections are devoted to "Time, Space and Matter No. One" a program originally financed by the high school by Princeton University. A section of ninth graders who had "Time, Space and Matter" at Valley Road when it was a Township Schools project, go on with the same approach, exploring geology, astronomy and later, matter, energy, and change.

Most ninth graders, in 12 separate class sections, take physical science. Because overcrowding at Princeton High presses in on every side, Mr. Strohaber conducts one section in a Latin room and against a background of Roman murals, performs experiments with the water he has carried in himself, jug by jug.

Tenth graders opening a biology text for the first time may find it colored "green," "yellow" or just plain "standard." Colors refer to the Biological Sciences Curriculum Study; "green" takes the ecological approach and sends seven classes of young PHS scientists out to scum-covered ponds looking for specimens. "Yellow" biology is cellular biology—it's new this year at PHS and four classes are taking it. There are also two traditional biology classes.

Students are assigned hetero-geously to these various classes, although the two "Special Materials' biology classes, which are all lab and the classroom with no homework, are specially chosen.

All four physics classes use the new P.S.S.C. physics. The program now has its full range of equipment, according to Mr. Strohaber, acquired over a three-year period for $3,320.

I Did It Myself! "We believe in letting youngsters work scientific laws out for themselves," Mr. Strohaber smiled. "Everybody does the calculations and we compare notes. Maybe because of delicate variations to measurement or mass, the results will be different from the classic experiment made a century ago, but we think it's more important for the kids to do it themselves than to have absolute accuracy."

Eight classes study 12th grade chemistry. Two of them, highly specific and organic in content, are designed for girls who intend to study nursing, so called "Chemstudy" are for really hard-driving young chemists.

Enthusiastic about innovation he's the "father" of P.S.S.C. physics at PHS), Mr. Strohaber has ideas for the future of PHS science. He'd like elementary ninth-grade science moved back to eighth grade. Then — "green" biology in ninth grade; Chemstudy in 10th, physics (P.S.S.C., of course) in 11th and in 12th.

"I'd like an advanced physics course, and the so-called 'Chembond' course in chemistry — it's very theoretical — and perhaps organic chemistry, biochemistry, qualitative or quantitative analysis. And then we could have advanced earth science . . ."

Future science courses depend, however, on what kind of quantity and quality the system can afford in laboratory space and equipment for high-school-level scientists.

GARDEN STATE?

To Discuss Jersey Problems. Politicians, bankers, educators, editors and representatives of citizen's groups will meet at the Woodrow Wilson School on Wednesday, December 7, to discuss "New Jersey: Garden State — Urban State." The day-long conference will be sponsored by Princeton University and the New Jersey Society of Architects.

The conference's sponsors are concerned that the improvement in surroundings necessary to the state's well-being is being hampered by complex political, social and economic problems. The object of the conference will be to find ways to alleviate problems of "the extensive mushrooming urban districts of New Jersey."

The conference will be organized around three panel discussions. One will consider the existing situation, a second will take up political, social and economic opportunity in the state, and the third will discuss the role of urban planning and architecture.

with a P-B Checking Account

Paying your bills with Princeton Bank checks saves two ways:

a. saves you the time required to pay in person

b. provides proof positive with your cancelled checks

Carrying cash to pay bills presents some problems these days. The mere need to travel from place to place takes time. And if you're carrying a lot of cash you might find trouble and loss.

Much better indeed to have a personal checking account at the Princeton Bank. Then, a few minutes with your check book and you can meet your obligations promptly and efficiently. Your return cancelled checks serve as the best kind of receipts.

The best walk you can take is right to the nearest Princeton Bank office to open your own personal checking account. After that let Uncle Sam do your walking.

RELIGIOUS PRINTS HERE

At Murray-Dodge Hall. A traveling exhibition of religious prints from the Museum of Modern Art is now on view in the Music Room of Murray-Dodge Hall on campus. This collection of carefully selected lithographs, etchings and woodcuts covers a wide range of expression and religious topics and is well worth finding and spending time on during its brief stay. (November 13)

Among the various schools of Post-Impressionism, Expressionism, Realism and Abstractionism, one finds interesting interpretations, predominantly German, particularly French, Spanish and occasionally Italian and American. The latter two are the most contemporary and are compelling examples of the work of Marcello Muccini and Leonard Baskin.

For contrast we pick out a quite literal illustration of "David and Bathsheba" by Picasso, etchings in Marc Chagall's flamboyant style and the strong, blunt woodcuts of Rouault. Jacques Villon's aesthetic "Three Kings" and "Christ and the Cross" are not only impressive but very moving. The literary approach of Redon in his illustration for Flaubert's "Temptation of St. Anthony" produces a deeply thoughtful reaction. In total contrast to every other print in the room is Henri Matisse's "St. Dominic," so simply and eloquently drawn that it stands alone.

As a survey of religious expression in recent and modern art, this is well described and interesting. Murray-Dodge is open to the public daily until 5 o'clock.

JOHN ANGELINI

Gallery 100. Until November 20th, drawings and watercolors by John Angelini can and should be seen at Gallery 100. The drawings, while competent and descriptive are by no means a main attraction but they do show what emerges in the watercolors; that this artist knows how to draw and has developed his techniques in painting out of a solid foundation of study.

The watercolors stopped us in our tracks and made us closely examine the method behind their effectiveness. The breadth of color on Angelini's palette is not great; in fact the somber tones of cold winter days, the waning hours of twilight and darkened night are all his. But in the composition and choice of emphasis comes compelling drama: the delicate tracery of a branch superimposed on a black tree trunk, a sprinkling of light through a dark valley, or the cast of sunset upon a staple roof is enough to speak the piece and touch the viewer with an experience that is recognizable and poignant.

The sense of the dramatic which so appeals to Angelini is the familiar kind which is nature's own. His subjects come from the sudden effects one notices on the way home from work or as one shuts the door at night.

Particularly notable to us for its vitality and what one observer was overheard to call its "magic" is "Twin Pines." In lowering light, the damp depths of a forest give rise to an intense feeling of luminous strength. "Seclusion" has more subtle changes in color and composition, and with beautiful handling of reflections and intriguing details, it more than fulfills its title.

John Angelini is a young New Jersey artist who graduated in 1948 from the School of Fine and Industrial Arts in Newark. He has studied in Italy where he probably was encouraged to take time to consider the details as well as the overall picture of nature. He is the Art Director of the Berles Carton Co. in Paterson and is a member of the New Jersey Watercolor Society, the Allied Artists of America and the Audubon Artists Inc.

Proving that he is not wasting his time, he has won fifty-nine awards since 1937. As an artist of energy and verve with a distinctive technique he has, at Gallery 100, a show which merits attention.

NASSAU CLUB

For November. Through this month, the Nassau Club will show paintings by Helen Schwartz of Grover's Mill. Mrs. Schwartz has previously shown at McCarter Theatre, Hunterdon County Art Association, the YWCA and Princeton Art Association exhibitions. Her paintings and drawings were part of the Fall 1955 exhibit of the Owl's Head Gallery in New Hope. For several years she has been teaching drawing at the High School of Music and Art in New York City and has studied with Gregorio Prestopino, Anthony Toney, Emanuel Romano and Stefan Martin.

Working in geometric forms, she feels out most of her subjects in still life and landscape. While some of the objects, shapes and "segments" in her arrangements of still life appear to be isolated, her "Study With Teapot" is dis-

The Whole Idea Of A Man Doing Something To Improve His Appearance By Removing The Gray In His Hair Would Have Been Pooh-Poohed!

Whereas, once, it was mainly men in show business who worried about the matter, today more and more men are afraid that gray hair may prove a handicap in getting a new job or in getting advancement within his own company.

Today, youth — and the idea of youth — are in — and men are concerned with maintaining their appearance.

There are many fine products for coloring men's hair now on the market . . . for the man who wants to effect the change from gray to natural color in a hurry (provided he is ready to cope with the question from his friends: "Whatever happened to you?") . . . or for the man who wants to make the change gradually and imperceptibly, over a period of several weeks.

UNUSUAL PROJECT: Geerat Vermey, Princeton student blind since he was 3, has been greatly assisted through use of a raised geological survey map made by the Princeton Unit of Recording for the Blind. With him is Mrs. James Amiek, head of a committee experimenting in raised line drawings.

a guided tour of the University campus. The affair is being held in honor of newcomers and new department members.

AID FOR BLIND STUDENT

From Princeton Unit. With the help of the Princeton Unit of Recording for the Blind, Geerat Vermey, a blind student at Princeton University, hopes to earn the University's first combined B. A. degree in biology and geology.

The Princeton Unit has completed a vital and unusual study aid for the blind sophomore: a raised and textured geological survey map of the United States. Raised lines and textures replace the black lines and shadings on conventional maps.

Mr. Vermey has been studying with the help of readers and books transcribed into Braille for several years. He was born in the Netherlands and became blind from glaucoma at the age of 3. When he was 8, his family came to the United States and now lives in Nutley.

The Dutch student reads Braille easily and uses a Braille typewriter as well as an ordinary typewriter in his studies. His parents and his brother have been tireless readers for him. His family has passed many summers reading textbooks to him while he has transcribed them into Braille.

Mussels Collected. Much of the material for his courses has also been prepared for him by the New Jersey Commission for the Blind. Mrs. Wilbur H. York of 42 Montadale Drive recently transcribed a genetics text for him.

Mr. Vermey's studies took him to the Carolinas last summer, where he collected mussels for his statistical study of the mussel population of the Atlantic Coast.

Beside Braille, recordings have also been helpful to the young student. He has also had help from University students who read his assignments to him. However, his need for a geological map presented a new problem.

The need was filled by a special service of the Princeton Unit. Headed by Mrs. James Amiek, a committee of volunteers has been experimenting with raised line drawings and now provides supplementary booklets of drawings to accompany recorded science texts.

Charts Drawn On Foil. Charts and maps are enlarged and then drawn on aluminum foil. Precision tools are used to make the lines and textures, and Braille labels are added where necessary.

The Princeton Unit has pioneered in this type of work. Most of the other 15 units now participate in a full-scale program to produce raised line figures.

Working on the project with Mrs. Amiek are Mrs. James Scheuerman, Mrs. Erle Hoekings, Mrs. William Frazier and Mrs. Arthur Pardee. They produced more than 1,000 raised drawings for 14 different text books.

The project is an important addition to the Unit's main fuetion of reading books onto tape. More than 200 volunteers participate in the Unit's work as readers, monitors, and technical and office assistants.

While the unit welcomes volunteers for all types of work, there is a particularly acute need for monitors in the recording studios, which are maintained at the Unit's headquarters at 100 Stockton Street. Monitors are especially needed for the evenings hours between 7 and 10.

The national organization of Recording for the Blind serves more than 4,000 blind people with free recordings and other types of educational material. Its New York library houses 65,000 copies of 11,000 works

PRESENT DAY CLUB

Author's Wife Shows. This month the Present Day Club is displaying an exhibition of paintings by Estelle Oldham Faulkner. Mrs. Faulkner is a native of Texas who moved in her childhood to Oxford, Mississippi where in 1929 she married the distinguished author, William Faulkner. She and her husband moved to Charlottesville, Virginia in 1950 and she has continued to live there since the author's death. Mrs. Faulkner's first public exhibition of her paintings was in the Alderman Library of the University of Virginia two years ago.

Mrs. Faulkner's paintings show various influences of Oriental austerity, Impressionism and Semi-Abstraction. She interprets atmospheric movements as in "Infinity" and "Red, Black and White Fantasy" which steam with color and vague forms. She also likes the cool quiet greens of a floral motif and the formality of Oriental panels. One landscape in this latter vein is outstanding: a typically composed Chinese scene with mountains and trees is painted so simply that it holds lasting effect.

This exhibition is open from 9 to 5 weekdays and 9 to 12 on November 12 and 19.

Have you read this
WARNING TO CHRISTIANS
Almost 19 centuries ago, the inspired apostle Paul wrote the following words of warning and admonition to the Christians of Galatia:

I am astonished to find you turning so quickly away from him who called you by grace, and following a different gospel. Not that it is in fact another gospel; only there are persons who unsettle your minds by trying to distort the gospel of Christ. But if anyone, if we ourselves or an angel from heaven, should preach a gospel at variance with the gospel we preached to you, he shall be held outcast. I now repeat what I have said before; If anyone preaches at variance with the gospel which you received, let him be outcast! — Galatians 1:6-9

The Princeton Church of Christ is attempting to teach the gospel of Christ to this area. A special series of lessons on teachings to Christians will be presented next week, November 13 through November 20, at 10:30 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. on Sundays, 7:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, River Road in Princeton. J. Harold Thomas will be the speaker.

TESTING FIRE HYDRANTS

Discolored Water Eliminated. The Princeton Water Company has begun a three-week project of testing and flushing fire hydrants in Borough and Township to make sure that all the hydrants are in sound working condition.

The operation is also designed to remove sediment left in as a result of the peak demands of last summer. Some householders may find their water discolored for a brief period, but water officials say the water will clear in a short time.

Flushing the hydrants is expected to keep from discoloring in the future. A new iron removal facility now being installed in the Harrison Street wells is expected to assure clear water from that source.

PARK GUIDE OFFERED

How To Survive

Cory S. Kemmler

A trooper said, "The cause of many hard accidents is the fellow who blocks normal traffic by driving slowly in the fast or left-hand lane. If he were considerate of others and of his own safety he would keep to the right. Even careful drivers will sometimes take the risk of dangerously passing the offending driver. Every time this happens there is the chance of a side-swiping pile-up or a head on collision, and we all know how often it actually happens just by reading the papers. With your column you can render a public service by reminding everyone that slow left-lane driving is tension-creating, accident-causing driving," said the trooper. Please know that we strive to serve you in every way.

THE BIG ONE: Fullback Dave Martin (34) jams his way through packed Harvard line just inches into the end zone for winning touchdown. Princeton's 18-14 upset triumph will rank with its greatest victories in nearly a century of football. TOWN TOPICS Photo by Bob Matthews.

WHAT'S NEW, PUSSYCAT? "Plenty," Tigers Can Say.

Propelled into a four-way tie for the Ivy title by one of its most resounding upset victories in nearly a century of football, Princeton will play Yale at New Haven Saturday, firmly in the belief that it can stuff the Bulldog into its trophy case just as it did John Harvard. It was, after all, belief in itself — contrary to massed opinion of the public, the press and even the Tiger coaching staff — that enabled the Orange and Black to conquer heavily-favored Harvard, 18 to 14, in Palmer Stadium.

Game-time in the Bowl is 1:45, with upwards of 50,000 expected for the 80th meeting of the two ancient rivals. For stay-at-homes, in addition to the usual radio outlets, the contest will be televised over Channels 6 and 7.

On Friday afternoon as Harvard's plane was preparing to come in at Newark Airport from Boston, the landing gear stuck. For 45 minutes, the plane circled until the co-pilot managed to lower the mechanism into place manually and a smooth landing was achieved.

Just 24 hours later, something funny happened to Harvard on its way to an unbeaten season, but there was nothing that Coach John Yovicsin could do to prevent a crash landing of his high-flying machine in Palmer Stadium. Only the hand and the cheerleaders survived.

As the man said, you had to see it to believe it, and having seen it, you will believe it for years — like the 17-14 upset of mighty Pennsylvania on Franklin Field in 1946. Or the day that Royce Flippin, whose name wasn't even listed in the program because of a season-long injury, came off the bench at New Haven in 1954 to score all three touchdowns in the 21-14 decision over heavily-favored Yale.

Despite the heroics of fullback Dave Martin (two touchdowns and a personal gain of 125 yards), the upset of Harvard should in all fairness be remembered as a victory that was won up front — by the Princeton offensive and defensive lines. Incredibly, there were four sophomores on the offensive line that repeatedly chopped up the Crimson, which had come into the contest as the league's best on defense, and ranked fifth in the nation in fewest points allowed. Princeton's own defensive platoon was so fired up and turned in such a fine performance that it pared a team which had averaged almost 400 yards and 30 points in its first six games to 207 yards and 14 points. Seven of those were made possible by a recovered fumble in the Princeton end zone.

Actually, if one man should

Colman: "The Coaching Staff Doesn't Believe It Yet"

Half an hour after Princeton's totally unexpected upset victory over Harvard, Dick Colman told an SRO press conference in the Caldwell Fieldhouse: "The coaching staff doesn't believe it yet."

Small wonder. Among the unlikely factors contributing to the removal of Harvard from one of the handful of unbeaten teams in the nation were these stunning developments:

● A Princeton passing attack that had sputtered fitfully for a 408 average during the first six games of the season connected for seven of eight — an average of 875.

● Against the team with the best defensive record in the Ivy League, Princeton bettered its average total offense for the season by some 15%. Against a defense which two short weeks ago was last in the Ivy League, Harvard's productivity was almost 50% below its six-game average.

● Halfback Bobby Leo and fullback Dave Martin for a combined total of better than 200 yards in each game while the Crimson was winning its first six for the first time since 1931. Against Princeton's fired-up defense, they totalled just 54 yards.

● Harvard came into the game with a record of 5.8 points allowed per game — fifth best in the nation. Providing the blocking that made the victory possible for Princeton was an interior line consisting of one senior non-letterman, an ex-Jayvee and three sophomores.

Colman revealed that numerous Boston newspaper articles praising Harvard's football team to the skies had been pasted up on a Princeton bulletin board as incentive to the Tigers. "One of the headlines," Colman commented dryly, "read, 'Will Bobby Leo Make it in the Pro's?' Holy smoke," he continued, "our guys wanted to see if he could make it in Palmer Stadium!"

VITAL RECEPTION: This pass caught by Princeton end Steve Pierce (86) erased 11 yards of 12-yard deficit on big third down play in Tigers' 93-yard drive for winning score.

be remembered for his heroics, it should be not Martin but Doug James. So versatile that he cannot be spared from his duties as cornerback and, on punt returns, as safetyman, he still had the ability and the energy to spell Dick Bracken at tailback.

In the action-packed third quarter, it was James who pasted perfectly to wingback John Bowers for a two-point conversion — a play so valuable that it not only made it possible for Princeton to tie by booting another field goal, but after the Tigers had scored the go-ahead touchdown, represented the additional point that made it impossible for Harvard to earn a last-minute deadlock with a field goal of its own.

Then, in as dramatic a fourth-quarter as Palmer Stadium has ever witnessed, Harvard's fine fullback, Tom Choquette, slammed over right end, needing only two yards for a vital first on the Princeton 16. He was brought down inches short of the necessary distance by cornerback Doug James.

A Come-from-Behind Rally. Shrugging off the fact that its first drive had stalled out when a fumble on the seven forced a field goal attempt that missed, Princeton still was the first to score. Ted Garcia booted a 33-yarder early in the second quarter, a lead that Harvard erased just before the half ended when Bobby Leo fell on a fumble by Vic Gatto a foot inside the end zone.

It was the third quarter that saw Harvard almost break the game open, and then suddenly find itself strictly on the defense as the vibred-up Princetonians grabbed the momentum on a series of three stunning plays. The Crimson drove 63 yards following the kickoff to make the score 14-3 and on the first play from scrimmage after kicking off to Princeton, recovered a Tiger fumble just 19 yards away for a second touchdown. Harvard's big chance to win the Ivy title and finish the season unbeaten was there on a silver platter, but as Yovicsin said after the game, "All season long, we have been a team of opportunists and this time just couldn't make the grade."

It was defensive end Larry Stojeki who twice shot into the Harvard backfield to throw Gatto and then Nic Zimmerman for losses totaling 22 yards. On the next down, Stojeki and Zimmerman pressured Zimmerman so much that he passed hurriedly, squarely into the hands of Tiger linebacker Jim Kokoskie.

A dozen plays took Princeton 68 yards, Martin diving over the center from two yards out for the TD. When James came in to loft an aerial to Bowers, just inside the end zone, for a two-point conversion, the possibility of a league-shaking upset was in the mind of every Princeton and Harvard partisan alike.

Cliffhangers Aplenty. The Tigers needed the ball to achieve it, and they got it back on the first play of the final quarter. They were, however, 93 yards away from the winning touchdown, and confronting them was a Harvard team that had allowed a stingy 5.8 points a game.

As befits a drama of such scope, there were several cliffhangers in the series of 17 plays that produced the TD. Four times on what the football fraternity knows as "the big down" (third) and once on a do-or-die fourth, Princeton provided the necessary yardage. Martin and Bracken put the ball in motion every time, running 15 plays and passing twice—each time to end Steve Pierce.

It was Martin again for his sixth TD in the last three games. Harvard had six minutes and 18 seconds left to which to preserve its unbeaten status. It was more than ample time, but the Tiger defense was somewhat more than ample, too, and the drive came to an end on the Princeton 18 when Captain Walt Kozumbo stripped out the interference running before Choquette, and James came in to pin him just short of what Harvard needed to stay alive.

THE STARS, BOTH WAYS: Senior Doug James, a standout as a cornerback, invaluable as a replacement at tailback, was a major figure in Tigers' triumph over Harvard. He seems a sure bet for All-Ivy.

The defeat of an unbeaten Harvard team by Princeton has a parallel that goes back to November 11, 1922. That afternoon, a Crimson eleven that had also won its first six was upset by the Tigers, 16 to 3. It was the Princeton "team of Destiny," captained by Mel Dickenson and including among its members Harland F. "Pink" Baker (who drop-kicked a field goal) and Brad Dinsmore, who booted the extra point. Both of the latter live here today.

SIX IN A ROW AGAIN?

Tigers Have It In Mind. In the long Big Three rivalry, only one team (Princeton) has ever defeated another (Yale) six straight times. The streak was engineered while the late Charlie Caldwell was coach (from 1951 to 1952) and on Saturday, Dick Colman has a chance to match this mark.

Not since their unbeaten team of 1960 walloped the Tigers, 43 to 22, have the Elis won in this series. Two years ago, both colleges went into the game with identical 7-0 records, but Captain Cosmo Iracavazzi led his mates to a 33-14 triumph.

Yale, like Princeton, has been weakened by injuries, losing a promising sophomore quarterback, Brian Dowling, for the season after its second game and, for the next two, very probably another sophomore back, Calvin Hill. The latter had been the Elis' best ball carrier until he suffered a shoulder injury at Penn on Saturday.

QUICK LOOK AT YALE

OFFENSE: Spotty. Lack of consistent scoring punch has kept Elis from making more than two touchdowns against every opponent save Brown and Columbia.

DEFENSE: Two king-size tackles in Captain Bob Greenlee and Glenn Greenberg bulwark the line but secondary has not been impressive.

CHIEF ASSET: Passing quarterback Pete Doherty, who needs three TD passes in final two games to surpass Ron Landeck's one-season Ivy record of 13.

CHIEF PROBLEM: Lack of good running game to balance passing attack.

TYPE OF ATTACK: T with balanced line, split end and flanker back.

Unable to move steadily on the ground, Yale has become the passingest team in the history of the sport at New Haven. Pete Doherty, a reserve quarterback for two years, has taken over for Dowling and already has set both Yale and Ivy records for passes. Five of the latter came against Columbia.

If the Elis win, it will be on Doherty's aerials, for even against a Penn eleven whose defense is far below par, they gained only 78 yards rushing —most of it before Hill was carried off on a stretcher. Early in the season, Princeton had all kinds of trouble with its defense, but indications are that with the line providing the rush of which it is now capable and James Hayward Gipson and Marty Eichelberger in the secondary, the Tigers will remain generally in control.

The bomb can, of course, beat them, as can Yale—in the same sense that Princeton had the chance to upset Harvard. But now it is the Tigers who are playing solid football, running with sufficient authority that they are able to take charge of the action for long periods of time. Defensively, they are capable of grinding the opposition to a halt, and the combination of these two factors has suddenly combined to give them a shot at a first-place tie in Ivy League action when a short while ago it was a question of whether they would make it to first division.

Too bad someone observed long ago that "a football takes crazy bounces." On second thought, even as an overdone cliche, it still is a particularly apt estimate of Princeton's fascinating form reversal.

PHS LOSES BIG ONE

Notre Dame Here Saturday. Steinert made believers of Princeton High School followers last week.

The Spartans played solid football and more importantly, made no costly errors in posting a 19-0 triumph over PHS. Thus the Little Tigers lost some of their lustre in proportion to that earned by the undefeated Spartans, who now seem to be shoo-ins to win their first mythical Mercer County crown.

TAYLOR FOR THE TACKLE: Tom "Buzz" Taylor (13) throws his 156 pounds into Steinert's hard-running halfback Mike Rakoski and lifts him up with a fine open-field tackle. Other white-shirted Little Tigers rushing up to lend a hand are Rich Volz (82), coming in from behind, Jeff Bullock (44) and Pete Starbuck (61). Solid defensive plays such as this were true of the Little Tigers all day but costly errors in kicking led to a 15-0 Steinert victory. (Staff Photo)

Although the Steinert loss was a tough one to swallow, especially in that PHS did not play as poorly as the score would indicate, all is not lost. The Blue and White is still a respectable 5-2 — the same record Notre Dame will carry with it when it invades Princeton for the third meeting between the two.

The Irish won both, including last year's frustration when PHS lost an early lead in the final quarter. Walt Porter's club does not, however, appear to be as strong this season. Steinert beat ND by three TDs and two weeks ago Bishop Eustace of Camden trimmed them, 31-6. So the Little Tigers are pointing to this one.

ND Offense Strong "Offensively," commented PHS coach, "Notre Dame is very good — they might even be better than Steinert but defensively they are not as strong. I feel we have just as good a chance against Notre Dame as we did against Steinert, and there's no doubt that we were the equal of Steinert on defense."

One problem that PHS must surmount is injuries. Tom Taylor, defensive standout, sustained a beat cut over his eyebrow against Steinert, which necessitated 14 sutures. He may not play. Mike Pomianoski, who goes both ways at tackle, hurt his ankle and center Craig Donaldson received a painful nip point injury.

"If we don't get Donaldson and Pomianoski back, we'll be hurting," said Wood, "and if Taylor isn't ready it will hurt us on defense." The kickoff is set for 2 p.m.

Under alternately sunny and leaden skies against home-team Steinert, PHS made a king-size error before the game was more than a few minutes old. It seemed to set the tempo for the rest of the afternoon and the feeling that this wasn't going to be Princeton's day.

After receiving the opening kickoff, PHS still needed two yards after three running plays and Matt Alexander went back to punt. The paste from center was high. Alexander retreated and caught it and seemed still to have time to get it off. However, he hesitated. Then he decided to run and at the last moment tried to throw the ball.

The latter cost the Blue and White five yards for intentional grounding and the ball wound up on the PHS nine. Two plays

Question of the Week

Question: Instead of bowl games, coach Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State suggests an eight-team elimination playoff similar to the NCAA National Baseball Tournament — to determine the No. 1 college football team. What is your reaction?

Where asked: PHS-Steinert game.

Nicholas Bartolino, 8 Tee Ar Place, county adjuster: Actually, I think it would be the fairest way of picking the No. 1 football team in the country. The supposed No. 1 team could have an off day on a particular afternoon and be eliminated, but if it had a chance to play more than one game, then it would give a truer picture, I feel, of the top team. Teams have good days and bad days.

Alex Bartolini, 57 Tulane Street, electrician: I agree with him 100%. It's the only true way to determine a national champion because conflicting schedules don't allow the top teams to play each other. Another important point is pro football extends so far into the season, people are settling down to watch that — why not extend a playoff into the middle of December? People are becoming football-minded toward the end of the season and then it's all over.

Charles Cirulle, 34 Humbert Street, employee, Van Nostrand book publisher: I think all you have to do is take the No. 1 and No. 2 teams in the country and put them in a bowl game. I don't think it's necessary to have a playoff.

Tim Smith, student at Trenton State College: I'd be in favor of it because there wouldn't be any doubt in anybody's mind. Some people place more emphasis on some bowl games than others and here there wouldn't be any question.

Ed McEwen, 161 John Street, machine operator, GM: Really, I don't think it's necessary to find out the top team in the country. An eight-team elimination playoff would take too much time. It would be nice to find out but this would really put too much of a burden on the players' studies. It would take almost a month.

Rich Mallam, Rider College student: I'd be in favor of a playoff instead of bowl games because it would truly determine a national champion.

Peter Rogers, 345 Ewing Street, state employee: I don't think it would be a good idea because it would mean too many games. Most teams play a nine-game schedule during the regular season. If you add three or four more, like in basketball, a team would have to play 12 games or more to become national champion. It would become more professional. I disagree. I think it should be kept on a college level.

Michael Kovacs, Hamilton Township, Board of Education: I feel it's a good idea myself; I think you would get a truer picture of the worth of the outstanding teams. It would be more accurate to get the top teams in a playoff so the people can see how they stack up against each other.

Thomas Lechner, Skillman, PHS student and statistics compiler for the Little Tigers: I like the idea, I think it's great . . . polls rate them . . . they never play each other . . . it would be more accurate, but I think a playoff would take too long.

Francis Brooks, Trenton, fireman: I would go along with that. I think this is good. It would mean about four more games for the people to see and I think it would be fairer.

Charles Harrison, Lawrence Township, lab technician, Princeton Plasma Physics: I don't think it would be right, in a way. It would take a while to get the games played off; I think it would take too much time. I feel the schedule is hard enough and long enough as it is. The players go to college to get an education, not to spend all their time on a football field.

Robert James, 2 Evelyn Place: I think it is the only way of determining a true national champion but there would be a lot of problems that would have to be overcome. The weather would be a factor; you'd get into January and winter weather. I feel that the present way of having the wire services determining a national champion isn't fair. There are no intersectional games — Alabama doesn't play Michigan State and so on. A playoff is the only way. It would be good if we could get it.

Hugh Maguire, Hamilton Township, tax collector: I'd like to see that; it would be more interesting. It would give a team that had an off day a chance to come back and create a whole lot of interest.

later, Gary Hobman, Steinert's outstanding quarterback and leading scorer in the county, swept right end to score.

PHS almost came right back. Jeff Bullock returned Steinert's punt 64 yards to the 35. Tom Yoder got a first down on the 22 but here the attack stalled. Had Princeton been able to score, it probably would have gone ahead 7-6 on the strength of Keith Conover's kicking.

Steinert Gets 2nd Break. Again, a sizeable "break" gave Steinert a second TD with 21 seconds remaining in the half. After an interception and a personal foul on John Milchansoki, Steinert had possession on the PHS 16. Hohman fired once and missed. A second was short and Jeff Bullock, in trying for a certain interception, tipped the ball instead and it fell complete into the hands of Steinert's Jim Patitucci.

Said Wood, "As much as one tries to prepare, these things happen. They're part of the game."

Later, after viewing the films, Wood said that "they look better than the game itself. Our offense overall and our blocking was better than in the Asbury game." PHS had won that one the week before, 37-0.

The defense was good, too. What hurt the visitors was a poor day at passing — only one short completion all day and that nullified by a penalty — and a horrendous day kicking and centering the ball.

The whole issue became academic when Steinert blocked another Alexander punt in the final quarter and recovered it for the third TD.

"Steinert didn't make mistakes," Wood pointed out." "Their quarterback and their halfback are really good, there's no question about it." The victory was Steinert's first ever over PHS.

PDS ROUTS JAYVEES

Claghorn Scores 5 TDs. Princeton Day School halfback John Claghorn had a field day and the Hun School jayvee team had a dismal day in their meeting Friday. Claghorn ran the opening kickoff 85 yards for six points and went on to score four more touchdowns as he led PDS to a 48-0 rout.

The win was Princeton Day's fifth in a row and fourth shutout. On Wednesday, the Blue and White traveled to Hightstown with the intention of making Peddie's jayvee squad its sixth straight victim.

Before the contest, PDS coach Dan Barren reported he was worried about his boys having a let down after being sky high for Hun. "Peddie," he said, "has a 22-member jayvee squad — all sophomores and juniors — so they can't be too bad."

Speaking about his team's surprisingly easy conquest of Hun, Barren said: "We were surprised; we didn't think they would be that easy."

As is often the case in such games, PDS could do nothing wrong and Hun committed mistakes which ended in gift touchdowns for the Great Road visitors. Hun never quite recovered from the shock of Claghorn's 85-yard return and by the second half was badly demoralized.

Claghorn followed his opening heroics with a 30-yard end run in the first period and a five-yard plunge and 35-yard sweep in the second. A 25-yard scoring pass from Bill Rigot in the final period ran his total to five.

In between, sophomore Craig Page returned an intercepted Hun pass 35 yards and Rigot swept end for 15. Fullback Sandy Wandelt, a standout on defense with 13 tackles, averaged eight yards a carry.

In addition to Wandelt, Barren cited three others for their defensive play. Freshman Eric Heggen, playing his first game as defensive quarterback, made seven tackles, while another freshman, Chris Mislow, playing his first game as defensive tackle, accounted for nine. Sophomore Keith Bash, a defensive guard, was credited with eight.

In all, PDS compiled 246 yards rushing and 48 passing on Rigot's three completions in seven attempts. Next year, it might be a different story for the onrushing PDS squad. PDS will open its season against the Hun varsity on September 30.

Hockey Sessions Set

Skating sessions for the Nassau Hockey League have been scheduled for Saturday mornings from 9 to 11, beginning December 3, at the new Princeton Day School Rink.

The league is open to all boys from 6 to 13. Beginners wishing to learn basic hockey skills are welcome. Games between teams in the various age groups will be scheduled.

Membership will be limited to 64 during the league's first year. Applications have already been received, and those interested should apply as soon as possible. Information sheets and applications may be obtained from Thomas J. Raser, 362 Dodds Lane.

NJSIAA LIST CHANGES

Area Schools Affected. Three Princeton area schools are among the 37 throughout the state affected by group classification changes announced by the New Jersey State Interscholastic Athletic Association.

Princeton Day School is one of four new independent schools, as membership in NJSIAA has increased to a new high of 339. Brand new Lawrence is one of five new high schools; when it has a senior class next year, it will be classified in Central Jersey, Group 1.

Hopewell Valley Regional High Shcool, located in Pennington, will advance from Group 1 to Group 2. Nearby Freehold and Franklin Township will be elevated from Group 3 to Group 4 — the latter the level of Princeton High School.

All public high schools are grouped into one of four levels based on the enrollment of male students. The smallest schools are classed as Group 1, on up to Group 4, the largest.

Asbury Park, an opponent this season of PHS, is one of five long-time Group 4 schools that have dropped to Group 3. Listings for the present year find 76 schools in Group 4, 78 in Group 3, 57 in Group 2, and 63 in Group 1.

HUN BOWS AGAIN

George School Next. For the Hun football team, Friday's contest with Pingry followed a familiar pattern: squandered opportunities resulting in another defeat—its sixth. It has yet to win this season, in which only two games remain.

Hun will try to salvage what little remains when it journeys to Newtown, Pa. Saturday for a Penn-Jersey League game with George School. Even the satisfaction of having a say in who will wear the League crown this fall has been denied Hun. Perkiomen, the defending champion is 5-0 in league competition and Hun coach Hawley Waterman observed, "I don't see how anybody can catch them."

Like Hun, George School is out of contention, having lost to Perkiomen and Friends Central. However those were its only two setbacks, and unless Hun can generate a sustained offense for the first time, it seems likely that George will send it home with another loss. The game will start at 2:30.

Against once-defeated Pingry, Hun penetrated within the home team's five-yard stripe on four occassions. Four times Hun was thrown back.

"We had them and we left them off the hook," said Waterman. "We were by far the better team in the first half; we got as close as the two and still couldn't go over. Pingry was very good on goal line defence."

Had Hun not made one defensive lapse on a Pingry trap play up the middle, the half would have ended 0-0, instead of Pingry, 6-0. Hun drew even at 6-6 when halfback Mark Short took the opening kickoff of the second half and raced 92 yards for Hun's only score. A run for the extra point fell short.

Again in the third quarter Hun drove to the Pingry two. A fumble killed this opportunity. As late as three minutes to go it was still, 12-6, but Pingry picked off a Hun pass for another TD to make it a 19-6 final.

MATTHEWS WINS AGAIN

To Extend League Lead. League-leading Matthews Construction Company emerged unbeaten from its third Midget Football contest last Sunday, coming from behind in the last minute of play to edge Princeton Fuel Oil, 19-14. In the other game of the double-header, Nassau Conover Motors overpowered the University Store, 12-7.

Dave Lichenstein scored the last-minute touchdown which upset Princeton Fuel, as well as an earlier Matthews tally. Teammate Jack Petrone accounted for seven points and led the ground attack, gaining 131 yards, including a 78-yard punt runback.

Daryl Boone carried for the first Princeton Fuel touchdown, and Joe Bolster caught a pass for the second tally. Dave Black and Ray Richards scored the points after touchdown.

Kevin Tylus accounted for the entire Nassau Conover score, carrying for two touchdowns. Tylus' rushing gain was 72 yards. Joe Moffo scored the University Store's lone touchdown and caught three passes, while Joe McGuinn, who ran for a total of 84 yards, accounted for the extra point.

The final double-header of the season will be held Sunday on the high school field. In the first game at 1, the University Store will confront Princeton Fuel. At 2, Nassau Conover will have an opportunity to tie unbeaten Matthews for the league laurels.

The league standings are as follows:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Matthews Const.	3	0	1 000
Nassau Conover	2	1	.667
Princeton Fuel	1	2	.333
University Store	0	3	.000

BASKETBALL SET

To Begin Saturday. The first session of the Recreation Department's basketball program will be held Saturday at the Community Park School. The first session, from 9 a.m. to 10:30, will be for boys in grades 4 through 8, and the second, from 10.30 to noon, will be open to boys in grades 9 through 12.

The first few weekly sessions will be devoted to instruction and free play. On January 7, leagues will be formed and competition will begin. No sessions will be held on November 26, December 24 and December 31 because of the holidays.

The program will be directed by Tom Murray, the high school's physical education director. Registration will be held at 9 on Saturday. Those wishing further information should call the Recreation Department office, 924-9480.

BOWLING NOTES

Lucey Rolls 269. Rolling in the B League, Jack Lucey last week fashioned the high single game of the season, a 269. That was 102 points better than his second game of 167 which coupled with an opening 188 gave him a 624 series.

Other high single games were rolled by John Balestrteri, 247;; Harry Kahny, 236; Frank Deineso, 235; Alfred Petrillo, 222; Joe Rietano, 214; and Bud Fowler, 213.

Team standings are tight. Leo's Gulf and Ivy Inn are tied for first with 32 wins. In second place, all even with 30 points each, are Princeton Inn, Nassau Del and Princetown Del. Two more have 28 points.

Norm Brown scattered pins for the week's highest series, a 667 on games of 224, 209, 234, while working in the Three-Man Classic Loop. Bud Fowler had a 224, Frank Delneso a 222 and Guido Zinetti, 211-210. Dick Wyckoff rolled 210-201.

Colonial Restaurant leads the pack with 16 wins. Farr Hardware has 15, Decker's Dairy 14, and Procaccini Construction and Turney Motors both 13.

Competition is extra keen in the Nassau League where three points separate the top seven teams. Three are deadlocked in first place with 32 points—Tiger Garage, Reformers, and Cifelli Electric. Grover Lumber is one behind. First Aid and Princeton Aviation both two points back and Ben's Auto Body, three.

Scores dipped somewhat with Mike DiDonato's 220 the highest. Others: Alfred Tocco, 212; Al Spencer, 211; Bob Cifelli, 209; Rich Penelli, 206; and Rudy Schutz 206203.

Helen Tamasi turned in another fine performance in the Business Women's League, a 196 (529), followed by Lillian Burrough 189-173 (523), Sarah Huneycutt, 184; Diane Fowler, 180, and Irene Boccanfuso, 170. Marge Davison converted the 2-7 and 5-10 splits, the latter also mastered by Betty Pirone and Peg Ranallo.

Irene's Day Nursery is a comfortable 12 points ahead of Jefferson Plumbing, 50 to 38. MacKenzie Realty, Bucci Builders and Princeton Taxi all have 32.

A 234 by Jack Zinsmister in the Tri-County Firemen's division was the top single game fashioned by the firemen. Jack followed with a 199-160 for 593. Bill Davall had 175-189-233 (597) and Bip Davison a 182-192-203 (577). In single games, Ken Luck was high with 223. Scores then dipped to a 206 by John Fitzpatrick.

Princeton No. 1 leads all others with 36 points. Trailing are Princeton Junction, Mercer No. 3 and Lawrenceville, both 30, and three tied at 28.

TOWN HOUSE . . . here is that rarity so many house-hunters ask about — a beautifully restored old residence within walking distance of everything. Right on Stockton Street, in the Borough, it has wide entrance hall, living room with fireplace, dining room with fireplace, library, maid's room & bath, powder room . . . and a very modern kitchen with lots of cabinets, electric dishwasher, disposal and everything in perfect condition. Upstairs: another living room with fireplace, 4 bedrooms, 2 baths. Third floor: 4 bedrooms, 1 bath. Outdoors: a lovely flagstone terrace in the garden, and many huge old shade trees. This is a Victorian masterpiece, over a century old, which has been modernized and decorated in excellent taste. If you have long been dreaming of someday moving your family into a house so big, and so beautiful, that even grandfather would have been proud to call it home . . . here is a real opportunity. (Sole Agent) $85,000

ESTATE . . . with 33 acres for privacy. Superb old Colonial dwelling restored in excellent taste. First floor has very large living and dining rooms, paneled library, 2 guest rooms and bath, sun room, game room with bar, large kitchen and laundry, another bedroom and powder room. Upstairs: 3 more bedrooms, with air-conditioners, and 2 baths. Every bit of remodeling has been done with the best materials and craftsmanship. Also, a vast masonry and tile indoor swimming pool wing which cost a fortune. Only 12 minutes from Princeton . . . This fine property offers an unusual opportunity to acquire one of the few showplaces available in our area. And the cost to you can be considerably reduced by retaining the landscaped acres which surround the buildings, and selling off the rest of the land. (Sole Agent) $159,500

OFFICE RENTAL . . . located on Nassau Street. Private entrance. Street floor. 612 sq. ft. Reception room and 2 offices. Utilities included. $200

Also, 900 sq. ft. in the same building $225

(Sole Agent) $59,500

ARMOUR ROAD . . . here is an unusual opportunity to live on one of Princeton's choicest streets. We can't remember when the last property on Armour Road was put on the market. The brick and frame house has foyer, paneled living room with fireplace, dining room, kitchen, den, 2 bedrooms and bath on first floor. Upstairs: 2 bedrooms & bath. Recreation room in basement. Attached 2-car garage. If you are interested in a wonderful location with beautiful old shade trees, here it is! (Sole Agent) $63,500

POSTAL PATRON

Thank You

A year ago this very week, we said "thank you" for putting up with us and our sawdust while we were renovating. We hoped you would approve of what we had done . . . and now, a year later, we KNOW you approve. These past twelve months have been the busiest and best we've ever had . . . in both of our stores' locations.

Thank You

We think a good way to thank you in a more tangible way is to have an Appreciation SALE and trim our profit margin in order to pass the savings along to all you wonderful people. (It's not too early to start thinking about holiday gift-giving — Christmas is only forty-four days away!)
